

Paul Wong - Clip 5

I am curious about how I fit into the world

I'm curious about how the world works and how I fit into that world...and how I would like to see the world. So for me, making a video tape is always trying to resolve or ask.... more questions or to prove a point. So one thing kind of leads to another. I never make/take notes; I never write down ideas; I don't have a journal; ah...in fact I very solemnly use storyboard production. I'm bit of a free spirit that way.
