

Thomas Demand - Clip 2

The end result is a photograph of a sculpture

I started with sculptures, and with the dilemma of wanting to photograph them, to document them, I was very unhappy with the outcome, so I started looking into photography more and more without abandoning the sculpture. So somehow I'm a hybrid or something. I'm doing both at the same time but the end result is a photograph of a sculpture.

