Announcements

E-Health 2005

E-Health 2005, Canada's premier conference on e-health issues, will be held April 30 - May 3, 2005 in Toronto. The conference will present the latest information on electronic health records, telehealth, and privacy and security issues. For those with an interest in primary health care renewal, aboriginal health issues, patient safety, access to health care services, public health, health promotion, and pharmaceutical issues, the conference will offer insight on using e-health solutions to improve and modernize the way health care is delivered.

Confirmed speakers include the Honourable Carolyn Bennett, David Miller, Mayor of Toronto, Richard Alvarez, CEO of Canada Health Infoway, and Richard Granger, Director General of National Health Service IT in the United Kingdom.

Please consider attending and encouraging any of your colleagues involved in e-health issues to attend as well. To view the Preliminary Program and register on-line, please visit the Web site at: <http://www.e-healthconference.com>
