

Federal Buildings Initiative PARTNERING FOR SUCCESS

ENERGY MANAGEMENT SERVICES COMPANIES YOU CAN COUNT ON

Energy efficiency retrofits make sense. They reduce operating costs, improve comfort and cut greenhouse gas emissions that contribute to climate change. But does your organization have the tools, people and financing to get the job done?

Why not leave it to the experts? Energy management services companies have joined forces with the Federal Buildings Initiative (FBI) to deliver a winning strategy for federal clients.

These experts can do it all, from assessing your needs to designing, implementing and monitoring the project to guaranteeing the results. They can even arrange for private-sector funding, so the up-front costs don't come out of your budget.

The FBI, administered by Natural Resources Canada's Office of Energy Efficiency, maintains a list of qualified energy management services companies to undertake energy efficiency improvement projects. Only companies on this list can bid for FBI contracts.

For more information on energy management services companies, visit the FBI Web site at oee.nrcan.gc.ca/fbi or fax (613) 947-4121.
