Wage Settlements

Covering 500 or More Employees

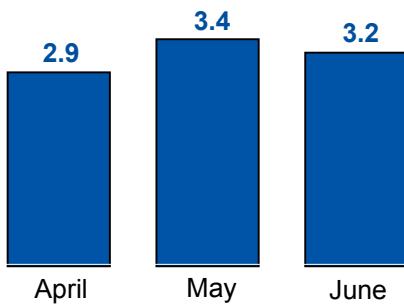

June 2007

Wage adjustments from major collective bargaining settlements reached in June 2007 averaged 3.2% annually over the contract term. The results are based on 31 agreements covering 40,640 employees.

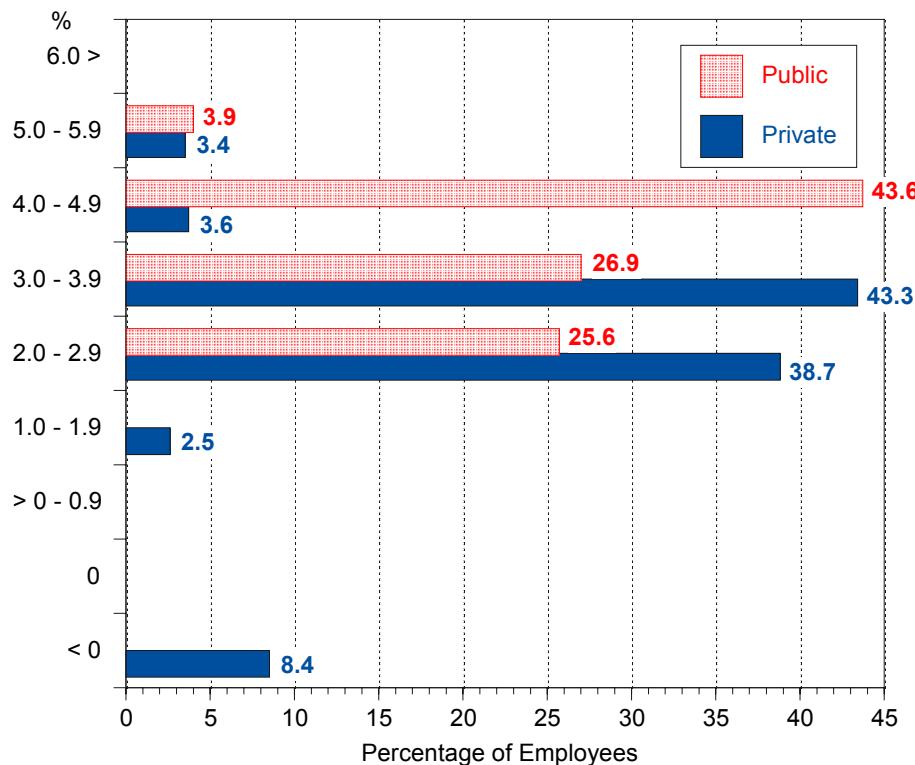

When the parties to these June settlements previously negotiated, the resulting wage adjustments averaged 2.9%, lower than in their current settlements. Contract duration in June averaged 38.1 months, compared to 33.9 months in the previous round of settlements.

In the public sector 17 agreements provided 20,350 employees with wage adjustments averaging 3.7%; 14 agreements in the private sector provided 20,290 employees with wage adjustments averaging 2.7%. The larger public-sector figure is due in large part to relatively larger wage adjustments in public-sector settlements in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Wage settlements have historically had a strong correlation to rates of inflation and the June Consumer Price Index in Alberta (6.3%) and Saskatchewan (3.2%) has been running much higher than the national average of 2.2%.

On an industry basis, wage adjustments ranged from a low of 1.5% in manufacturing to 4.9% in the information and culture sector. The largest concentration of employees was in the construction sector as 13,400 employees (33% of the total) received an average wage increase of 3.2% in 7 agreements.

On a jurisdiction basis, wage adjustments ranged from -0.7% in Newfoundland and Labrador, to 4.4% in Alberta. The largest concentration of employees was in Ontario as 20,460 employees received wage adjustments averaging 3.0% in 12 agreements. The 4.9% figure in federal jurisdiction is due to a single settlement (Saskatchewan Telecommunications).

For major settlements to date in 2007 (January through June), wage adjustments are averaging 3.0%.
