Wage Settlements

Wage Settlements Covering 500 or More Employees October 2006

Major collective bargaining settlements reached in October 2006 provided base-rate wage adjustments averaging 1.7% annually over the contract term, down from the 2.5% average recorded in the previous month. The results for October 2006 are based on a review of only 17 major settlements reached and cover 47,050 employees.

When the parties to these settlements previously negotiated, contract duration averaged 60.9 months and the resulting wage adjustments averaged 1.7%, the same (1.7%) as in their current round of settlements. The average contract duration for major agreements in October 2006 was 41.1 months.

The relatively low average of 1.7% is due largely to 4 retail sector agreements in Ontario (2 Loblaws and 2 Zehrs supermarket settlements with wage adjustments of 0.9%). However the retail employees received substantial lump-sum payments which are not reflected in the wage adjustment.

Wage adjustments in October settlements ranged from a low of 0.9% for 28,020 retail employees with Loblaws and Zehrs in Ontario (mentioned above), up to a high of 4.0% for 3,200 inside employees with the City of Edmonton and 810 production employees with Highland Valley Copper in British Columbia.

Wage gains in October were higher in the public sector (2.9%) than in the private sector (1.1%). There were 7 public-sector agreements, covering 14,270 employees. The private-sector data cover 32,780 employees in 10 agreements.

On a jurisdictional basis, Alberta registered the largest average wage adjustment, at 3.9%. The second largest average increase was posted in British Columbia at 3.6%. The smallest average wage adjustment was recorded in Ontario at 1.1%. In the Federal jurisdiction, wage increases averaged 2.4%.

On an industry basis, the largest wage adjustment was in the primary sector, at 4.0%. The lowest average adjustment was reported in the wholesale and retail trade sector, at 0.9%. The largest concentration of employees was also in the trade sector.
