A degree or diploma in the Health and Social Sciences fields or a Bachelor of Education will be considered for equivalency for a Child Care Worker level III. Applicants must first successfully complete a 60-hour early childhood development course. Applicants can then apply, along with all transcripts, for a level III child care worker designation.

If an Applicant is granted a CCW level III designation, there will be a requirement that an additional early childhood development course be completed within a year and each year thereafter. Certification would be given on a yearly basis and include an expiration date. Workers must then re-apply for their CCW designation, and provide proof of successful completion of ECD coursework. If the requirements have been met, certification will be granted for another year. It is strongly recommended that the 3rd or 4th early childhood development course completed be a field placement course.

Child Care Services does not have the expertise or means to evaluate degree and diploma programs from countries other than Canada at this time. Completed programs that are accepted by an accredited institution as equivalent may be considered.
