

Congratulations Apprentices!

“Cooking has always been something I’ve enjoyed as a hobby,” said Mr. Fougere. “Because of the training I received through the apprenticeship program, I get paid to do what I love, and that’s a great feeling.”

Patrick Fougere is one of Nova Scotia’s 804 certified Journeypersons for 2006/07.

Qualified skilled tradespeople are essential to the strength and growth of our province’s businesses and its economy.

The Department of Education manages Nova Scotia’s apprenticeship training and certification system. We work with industry and other partners to ensure Nova Scotians get high-quality training that meets the needs of employers.
