SOUTHWEST Golf REGION

The southwestern region of Nova Scotia is famed for its picturesque fishing villages, vibrant Acadian culture and flourishing pastures. This region comprises two scenic travelways - the Lighthouse Route and the Evangeline Trail.

The Lighthouse Route stretches from the capital of Halifax down to the southern town of Yarmouth. The idyllic setting of this area consists of spectacular bays dotted with islands, 18th century sea captains' mansions and brightly painted fishing fleets. Explore warm and welcoming communities and enjoy quaint boutiques and galleries. After a day of touring, relax in a luxurious resort, historic inn or bed and breakfast.

The majestic Evangeline Trail meanders through the lush and fruitful Annapolis Valley, all the way down to the rich Acadian shores of the province. Residents and visitors alike gaze in wonder at the gentle landscape which is continually shaped by the forceful tides from the Bay of Fundy. These tides are the highest in the world and are home to whales, dolphins, seabirds and other species of marine life. The beauty of the landscape is matched by the region's warm and welcoming hospitality.

Ken-Wo Country Club

Incorporated in 1921, Ken-Wo's majestic beauty is a must see and the course is a "must play" for all golfers. Ken-Wo received great accolades when the Valley club marched on the national stage hosting the 2001 Canadian Junior and the 2002 Canadian Ladies' Amateur. Ken-Wo features tree-lined fairways and tricky greens with five finishing holes, known as Death Valley, that are as great a challenge as any in Atlantic Canada. Ken-Wo is tough enough to offer the expert a challenge and forgiving enough to offer the novice an enjoyable round!

White Point Golf Club

Built in the 1930s by Donald Ross, these delightful and testy 9 holes are surrounded by the sights and sounds of the ocean. White sandy beaches and spectacular views add to the ambience and appeal of this resort links-style course.

The signature par 3 third hole is a bunkered bowl of a green with a deceptively innocent appearance. It's part of the reason White Point is considered one of the most challenging courses on the South Shore.

River Hills Golf & Country Club

Meandering along the ocean and the banks of the Clyde River, our 18 picturesque holes (9 of which water comes into play) present a challenge to even the most experienced golfer. From our rustic clubhouse, one can view 5 holes of play.

Under the direction of architect Steven Miller of Linksland Golf Group, 5 new holes were completed in September 2001, rounding out our full 18 holes. These holes are in sharp contrast to the existing layout and will make our course one of the most enjoyable in the province.

Stanley Thompson's vision... still a challenge after 75 years...

Since 1931 this parkland setting has dumbfounded, challenged and delighted players of all skill levels. And through years of improvements and careful maintenance we have preserved Stanley Thompson's dream. A winding brook through a pine forest creates the breathtaking scenery of our 2nd and 16th holes, but watch out for the 7th hole. It is a winding, dipping adventure rated as one of the most difficult in Canada! After your round, indulge yourself in our four star resort and newly created Aveda concept spa.

Golf Resort and Spa

SIGNATURE RESORTS

Digby Pines Golf Resort and Spa

Significant upgrades over the past 5 years have allowed the course to keep pace with newer courses while maintaining the golf experience that Stanley intended. The parkland setting, through an evergreen forest, is complemented by the course's circular layout which brings the prevailing wind into place at almost every conceivable angle.

The course is characterized by a winding brook that has been dammed to create two outstanding par 3 holes - one of which is the signature #2 hole. The par 5, #7 hole, is a winding, dipping adventure, rated as one of the most difficult holes in Canada.

Don't let the 6284 yards from the back tees fool you. With the narrow landing areas, mounded bunkers, small greens and prevailing winds, Digby Pines plays much longer. The 2 additional tee locations on each hole allow for friendlier play for those who don't hit the ball far.

Digby Pines Golf Resort and Spa is an elegant and historic property, dating back to the late 1920s. With its 4 star rating, it is one of Atlantic Canada's premier destinations. The addition of a 2500 square foot Aveda concept spa in 2005 adds to the total experience at Digby Pines.

Even after 75 years, the Stanley Thompsen masterpiece continues to give golfer's a truly "classic" experience.

Lost Creek Golf Club

Located just 30 minutes from Halifax, this course may be one of Nova Scotia's best kept secrets. Lost Creek is a newer layout, built in the classic manner, using the existing lay of the land and "Mother Nature's guidance" to full advantage. The signature par 3 features a tee area on an island in the middle of Lost Creek. So bring your clubs (and your camera) to enjoy an exhilarating game of golf and discover Lost Creek.

The Links at Penn Hills

The Links at Penn Hills takes advantage of the spectacular vistas of this beautiful property. The tidal Shubenacadie River provides an ever changing backdrop for golfers to enjoy. There is a nice mix of holes on the lowland dyke area, the rolling meadows and a series of holes in the wooded area. The Clubhouse sits high on the hill overlooking the river valley and features dining and bar facilities, pro shop and meeting and banquet facilities.

This is the first course in Nova Scotia designed by renowned golf course architect Les Furber. With its rolling hills, woodlands and spectacular views of the Shubenacadie River Valley, The Links at Penn Hills is the ultimate golf experience. Penn Hills' four sets of tees, ranging from 5400-7200 yards, will ensure all golfers, from scratch to casual players, will be able to enjoy themselves.

NORTHEAST Golf REGION

The northeast golf region offers visitors a diverse array of adventures both on and off the course, from warm salt-water beaches, crisp local wines, dramatic landscapes and living history experiences. Three scenic travelways make up the northeast golf region - the Glooscap Trail; the Sunrise Trail; and the Marine Drive.

The surging tides of the Bay of Fundy reveal hundred-million-year-old fossils and semi-precious gems lodged in the Triassic cliffs of the Glooscap Trail. Discover this ancient landscape then relax by savouring local plump blueberries, crisp wines and rich seafood.

Warm salt-water beaches and quaint Scottish communities are the order of the day when touring the Sunrise Trail. In addition to the many Scottish festivals and highland games, there are many local businesses worth touring, such as vineyards and professional artisans.

Along the Marine Drive, visit a restored 18th-century fishing village at Fisherman's Cove and a 19th-century lumbering and ship-building town at Sherbrooke Village. Angle in the Liscombe River; hike Taylor Head National Park; and kayak through salt-marshes that teem with wildlife.

Highlands Links

As one of the World's Top 100 Courses (#71, Golf Magazine, 2005) and Canada's #1 Public Course (SCOREgolf Magazine, 2006) for the third consecutive year, Highlands Links represents the essence and purity of golf as it was meant to be played. Here, between the majesty of the Cape Breton Highlands and the roar of the Atlantic Ocean, Stanley Thompson's masterpiece has grown into a national treasure.

Located in the heart of one of North America's most beautiful national parks (Cape Breton Highlands ranked #2 National Park in North America-National Geographic Traveler Magazine, 2005), this 18-hole journey showcases breathtaking mountain views and ocean vistas. The brilliance of Thompson's design is apparent to all with his famous bunkering and magnificent routing, winding its way seamlessly through rocky headlands and wooded glens. Whether it's the feel of the ocean breeze at your back as you tee off from "Ben Franey" (#1) or the exhilaration of watching eagles soar above as you challenge "Killiecrankie" (#7), Highlands Links welcomes each golfer with its inspiring natural beauty. "Few courses anywhere are more pleasing to the eye", (Golf Odyssey, Sept. 2005).

While this "Canadian Classic" (Globe Golf, May, 2005) has been included among golf's elite courses for several years, the Parks Canada operated course is equally proud of the fact that Highlands Links enjoys the distinction of being designated the first course in Atlantic Canada as a "Certified Audubon Co-operative Sanctuary." As Thompson himself once stated, "Nature must always be the architect's model."

Together, the brilliance of Thompson's design combined with a spectacular natural setting has resulted in one of the world's most unforgettable courses (#22 Golf Digest Top 100 Courses Outside the United States), and a spectacular golfing experience between the mountains and the ocean. Online tee time booking available.

Bell Bay Golf Club

The beautiful Bell Bay Golf Club located in the quaint village of Baddeck, Nova Scotia, was awarded "Best New Course in Canada" by Golf Digest 1998 and "40th Best Course in Canada" by ScoreGolf Magazine 2006. Bell Bay sits high above Cape Breton's inland sea, offering panoramic views of the Bras d'Or Lakes from virtually every hole.

Bell Bay is an experienced site for high profile events, such as; The 2006 Canadian Club Champions Championship, The 2005 Canadian Amateur Championship, The 2001 Wayne Gretzky and Friends Invitational featuring Mike Weir vs Brett Hull and Joe Sakic, The 2000 Canadian Club Champions Championship - RCGA, 2000 and 2001 RCGA Future Links Atlantic Championships, 2001 Nova Scotia Junior Championship, and the 1998 and 1999 Canadian Tour Event "The Bell Bay Matches".

The routing of the course takes full advantage of the natural features of the land and each hole has a distinctive element that makes it both unique and memorable.

Bell Bay is distinguished by its final 4 holes, which have been called one of the best finishing sequences anywhere. A strong candidate for the signature hole is the seventeenth par 3, "Banshee." The drastic elevation changes, ravine and a green that is set in a pocket of trees on the other side offer an illusion to the golfer's normal distance perception and it is easy to underhit the shot. The true signature hole though is saved for last. "Breadalbane" is one of the most scenic tee shots in golf. A sweeping panorama of the Bras d'Or Lakes and Alexander Graham Bell's summer estate can take ones attention away from this par 5 finishing hole. Starting with a tee shot over a great gorge, the hole winds its way to the clubhouse silhouetted by the Highlands in the background.

Overall playability is enhanced by bent grass greens, tees and fairways, exceptionally manicured. There are four distinct teeing areas, positioned to assure both challenge and enjoyment for players of all skill levels. A member of Cape Breton's Fabulous Foursome.
