Licences, Travel and More

The information contained in this section will help you determine what type of licence you'll need for the activity you wish to pursue and describes the various types of licences available. There's also contact information for the various government bodies which enforce the regulations and information on customs and regulations which will help you enjoy your time in Ontario.

Fishing Licence Information

Ontario and Canadian residents MUST have an Outdoors Card to purchase a fishing licence. This card is not a licence—You MUST purchase a tag and affix it to the Outdoors Card

You do not need an Outdoors Card or Fishing Licence Tags if:

1. You are a Resident of Canada who is under 18 years of age or 65 years of age or older, and are in possession of your Birth Certificate.
2. You are a Disabled Canadian resident and you are either eligible for, or in possession of either a Canadian National Institute for the Blind National Identity Card; OR an Ontario Ministry of Transportation disabled person parking permit.
3. You are a Canadian resident with intellectual, neurological or psychological impairments or developmental disabilities and are in possession of your Birth Certificate, AND, require the direct assistance of and are accompanied by another person while fishing for reasons of needing assistance with the act of fishing as defined by the Fisheries Act ; OR lacking the intellectual capacity to comprehend the regulations pertaining to fishing.

Those who qualify to fish without purchasing a fishing licence as indicated above, may fish with the same catch and possession limits as holders of a Sport Fishing Licence Tag . Additionally, you have the same responsibilities as those who have purchased an Outdoors Card and Fishing Licence tag and must abide by all regulations.

Ontario Residents

A resident of Ontario is defined as a person whose primary residence is in Ontario and who has lived in Ontario for a period of at least six months during the 12 months immediately before applying for a licence or using a licence.

Canadian Residents (Outside of Ontario)

A resident of Canada is defined as a person whose primary residence is in Canada and who has lived in Canada for a period of at least six months during the 12 months immediately before applying for a licence or using a licence.

Non-Residents (Persons Living outside of Canada)

Anyone who is not an Ontario resident or Canadian resident under the above rules is considered a non-resident and must purchase a Non-Resident Sport Fishing Licence. Non-residents do not need an Outdoors Card to purchase fishing licences. Non-residents under 18 may angle without a licence if accompanied by a licenced family member. Any fish caught will legally be part of the catch and possession limit of the person who holds the licence.

Licence Types and Prices

For conservation reasons, fishing laws limit the number of fish an angler may catch or possess. The number depends on the type of licence the angler holds, the fish species, where the fish is caught and, in some cases, the size of the fish.

Sport Fishing Licence Tag

With a Resident Sport Fishing Licence Tag affixed to the Outdoors Card, the angler is eligible to catch and possess fish as specified beside the "S" on the Division/Species Table . The Resident Sport Fishing Licence Tag is for anglers who wish to have full catch and possession fishing privileges.

Conservation Fishing Licence Tag

With a Resident Conservation Fishing Licence Tag affixed to the Outdoors Card, the angler observes a catch and possession limit that is lower (in most cases), than that of a Resident Sport Fishing Licence Tag holder. Catch and possession limits are specified on the Division/Species Tables . The limit for the angler with a Conservation licence is indicated with a "C". The Resident Conservation Fishing Licence Tag is ideal for the angler who wishes to live release a majority of the fish caught, or in the case of certain species, all of the fish caught. The holder of a Resident Conservation Fishing Licence Tag must quickly and carefully live release all fish of the following species: Muskellunge; Atlantic Salmon, Sturgeon and Aurora Trout.

Hunting Licence Information

Ontario Residents

A resident of Ontario is defined as a person whose primary residence is in Ontario, and who has lived in Ontario for a period of at least six months during the previous 12 months prior to applying for a licence.

To hunt in Ontario, residents must have the hunting version Ontario Outdoors Card. The hunting version Outdoors Card or Temporary Hunting version Outdoors Card is the only card that provides an Ontario resident with hunting privileges. The hunting version Outdoors Card also provides fishing privileges, once a fishing licence tag is affixed. Residents and non-residents must be 16 years of age or older to be eligible for a licence. Residents may obtain a licence at 15 years of age with written consent from both parents (one parent if not living with both parents) or a legal guardian. THE ONTARIO OUTDOORS CARD IS NOT A LICENCE. A valid licence consists of an Outdoors Card plus the required hunting licence tags and any applicable paper hunting licences and game seals and/or validation tags. The only exception is the Ontario resident Hunter Apprentice hunting with a licenced Mentor. The Hunter Apprentice must carry an Ontario-issued Hunter Apprenticeship Safety Card. The mentor must have a Hunting Version Outdoors Card and all applicable licences and the licence must be valid for the species or group of species you are hunting. You must carry the licence and any validation tags with you while hunting (and fishing).

Here's a collection of facts, laws and useful tips that will help you get the most out of your trip.

AUTOMOBILES

Documents... A valid driver's licence from any country is good in Ontario for 3 months. If you're driving across the border, bring the vehicle registration forms and a free Canadian Non-Resident Insurance Card from your insurance agent, or the policy itself. Minimum liability insurance in Ontario is $200,000. If you're driving a borrowed car, also bring a letter of permission signed by the owner. If you're driving a rented car, include a copy of the rental contract.

Services... The Ontario Provincial Police (O.P.P.) are responsible for the highways and other areas including the inland lakes and waterways not served by municipal police forces. First aid stations are clearly posted along the highways. Information on the condition of any highway in the province is available all year from the Ministry of Transportation's regional toll-free numbers listed on the Ontario Official Road Map or by calling 1-800-268-4686.

Restrictions... Ontario law requires that adults and children over 18 kg/40 lbs in weight wear seat belts. Infants from birth to 9 kg/20 lbs in weight must travel in a rear facing child restraint system. Toddlers weighing 9 to 18 kg/40 lbs must travel in a front facing child restraint seat. Children over 18 kg/40 lbs can use either a booster seat or a regular lap seat belt. Windshields and side-front windows must allow a clear view of the vehicle's interior. Studded tires are permitted on highways in Northern Ontario.

Radar Warning Devices... The use or transport of radar detection devices is illegal. Ontario police may confiscate such devices, and fine you as well.

Car Rentals... Automobile rentals are available at our international airports and in many of our towns and cities. The minimum age varies from 21 to 25. Most companies require a credit card to rent a vehicle.

TRAINS

Via rail links most of the major cities in the province and connects with Amtrak and other U.S. rail lines at many border crossings.

Northern Ontario offers scenic excursions... The Algoma Central Railway offers a tour of the Agawa Canyon north of Sault Ste. Marie. The Ontario Northland Railway will take you from Cochrane to the coast of James Bay on the Polar Bear Express. For details, contact your travel agent.

AIRLINES

Easy Accessibility... The north is easily accessible by air. Convenient connections can be made to the north from Toronto. Once in the north a network of regional carriers can take you to small centres. For more information call your travel agent.

FLY-IN SERVICES... The person who hires his own plane and pilot takes the crow's flight route to where all the action is. A pontoon-equipped plane can get you from city or town to the surface of a wilderness lake, where your hosts at the fly-in camp will have your guides and boats all ready to go. And if there is no scheduled commercial flight to take you from one area to another, when the spirit moves you, there are many charter services easily available. Your travel agent can arrange a whole fly-in package for you, in advance, or you can contact the people listed in this directory.

RESTRICTED CARRIERS... Many camps and lodges operate a restricted carrier float plane service to shuttle guests between the resort and a fixed jumping-off point, but the pilot is not licenced to roam the skies at will.

BOATING

Pleasure craft may enter Canada by trailer or under their own power. The required entry permit is issued by Customs at the point-of-entry. All boats powered by motors 7.5 kw (10HP) or over must be licenced and the licence number clearly indicated on both sides of the bow of the vessel. Boat licences from outside Ontario are acceptable. Overboard discharge of garbage or untreated sewage is forbidden.

Customs and Immigration

Customs officers are at the border to ensure that people entering Canada respect Canadian Laws. They are authorized to interview persons seeking entry to Canada to determine admissibility. When you enter Canada, a customs officer may ask to see your passport and a valid visa if one is necessary. If you are a citizen of the United States, you do not need a passport to enter Canada. However, you should carry proof of your citizenship, such as a birth certificate, certificate of citizenship, or naturalization, as well as photo ID. If you are a permanent U.S. resident, you should bring your Permanent Resident Card (i.e., green card) with you. Customs officers always have their eyes open for missing children and runaways. If you are traveling with children, you should carry identification for each child. Divorced parents who share custody of their children should carry copies of the legal custody documents.

As a visitor, you can bring certain goods into Canada for your own use as "personal baggage". This includes clothing, camping and sports equipment, cameras, tape recorders and even personal computers. It also includes vehicles, vessels and aircrafts. As required by law, all goods MUST be declared at the time of your initial contact with Customs.

If you meet the age requirements of the province, you are allowed to bring in, free of duty and taxes, either 1.5 litres of wine, or 1.14 litres (40 ounces) of liquor, or 24x355 millilitres (12 ounces) cans or bottles (8.5 litres) of beer or ale. You may also bring, without paying duty, up to 200 cigarettes, 50 cigars or cigarillos, 200 grams (7 ounces) of manufactured tobacco and 200 tobacco sticks. You may bring in additional quantities, however you must pay duties and taxes.

You may import gifts for friends in Canada duty free and tax free, as long as each gift is valued at CAN $60.00 or less. If the gift is worth more, you will have to pay duties and taxes on the excess amount. You cannot claim alcoholic beverages, tobacco products or advertising matter as gifts.

Dogs and cats from the U.S. that are at least three months old need signed and dated certificates from a veterinarian verifying that they have been vaccinated against rabies within the last three years. The certificate must clearly identify the animal. If your dogs or cats are less than three months old, you do not need a certificate of rabies vaccination to enter Canada. However, the animals must be in good health when they arrive.

For more detailed information, call the Automated Customs Information Services (ACIS) line at 1-800-461-9999 (toll free in Canada) or 204-983-3500 or 506-636-5064 (long distance charges may apply).

Criminal Records... If you have a criminal record including impaired driving (driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol), please refer to NOTO's website, www.noto.net and click on border crossing issues for more information.

Importing Firearms... The following requirements apply to the importation of firearms:

- You must be at least 18 years of age.
- You cannot import prohibited firearms, or any prohibited weapons or devices, including silencers and replica firearms.
- Visitors may temporarily import restricted firearms, such as pistols or revolvers, provided they get an Authorization to Transport (ATT) in advance from a chief firearms officer. For more information on importing a firearm into Canada, applying for a Canadian firearms licence or an Authorization to Transport (ATT) you may contact:

Canadian Firearms Centre

Ottawa, ON K1A 1M6
 Phone: 1-800-731-4000(Canada & U.S.) or 506-624-5380 (other countries)
 Fax: 613-941-1991

 Website: www.cfc.gc.ca

CURRENCY

Most Canadian establishments offer competitive exchange rates. You can also exchange your home currency at international airports, banks, trust companies and currency exchanges conveniently located at most of our travel centres at the Ontario/U.S. border. Major credit cards such as American Express, MasterCard, Visa, Diners Card etc., are also welcome at most Canadian establishments.

HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL SERVICES

Visitors are strongly urged to obtain health insurance before leaving their home country. It is possible that your health insurance does not extend coverage outside your country of residence. If you are taking medicine prescribed by your doctor, bring an adequate supply in original bottles and copy of the prescription in case it needs to be renewed by a doctor in Ontario. For further information, contact your travel agent or insurance agent.

LIQUOR

Anyone 19 or over may buy and consume liquor, wine or beer. These are available from government agencies located throughout Ontario.

Licensed premises may serve alcohol from 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m.

In Ontario it is an offence to consume alcohol in other than a residence or a licensed premise. Please note, driving motorized vehicles, including boats, while impaired is illegal in Ontario.

LAND USE LAWS

Ontario has two laws which clarify the responsibilities of landowners and those who use their land for recreation. The Occupier's Liability Act reduces a rural landowner's responsibility for the safety of non-paying visitors.

The Trespass to Property Act designates premises where entry is prohibited without notice. Trespassers can be fined up to $2000 and ordered to pay any damages.

For a free explanatory brochure, write to the Communications Branch, Ministry of the Attorney General, 720 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5G 2K1.

CROWN LAND CAMPING

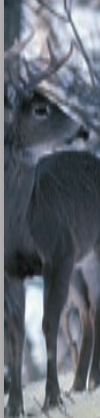

To improve the quality of experience for campers by ensuring that crowding and over-use of sites is reduced, there are some regulations about Crown or public land that you should know about.

Non-residents of Canada, 18 years of age and older, are required to obtain a permit to camp on Crown Lands. This applies to the area north of the French and Mattawa rivers, from the northwestern to the northeastern borders of Ontario. These permits are available from most angling licence issuers and from Ministry Natural Resources District Offices. For further information, contact Ministry of Natural Resources District Offices throughout Northern Ontario.

Fishing & Hunting In Ontario

The outdoors is full of sound. Sometimes, it's the babble of a brook, where shadowy forms of trout rise to tiny insects. Sometimes, it's the roar of a great river that holds walleye, muskie, or even sturgeon. Sometimes, it's the crash of massive antlers echoing across a valley few have ever seen. Or, perhaps it's the whistle of wings singing from a misty marsh on a morning in October. And, sometimes it's the sound of stillness that, once experienced, is etched forever on your soul. At times like this you'll understand why you came to Ontario and you'll know that this is where you belong.

Moose

Mist drifts down a lonely creek, veiling fiery autumn colours. You raise your call and release the haunting bawl of a lonely cow moose across the hollow. Seconds later, you hear a twig snap and then another. You hold your breath and listen. Was that a grunt? Suddenly, there's a splash, like someone rolled a boulder in the water. A moose is in the shallows. Each wading step cuts the morning stillness. Ripples, telegraphed by long black legs, lap the shore. He's close.

A finger touches the safety; your heartbeat imitates a drumming grouse. A dark shape - magnificent, powerful, and majestic - emerges through the fog. Whatever happens next doesn't really matter. That image is seared to memory. You've come face to face with the monarch or the north woods, the bull moose.

Encounters like this bring moose hunters back to the north woods of Ontario each autumn. With gun (rifle, shotgun, and muzzleloader) seasons, bows-only seasons, and a special bows-and-muzzleloaders-only season, from September to mid-December, and more huntable country than you could explore in a lifetime, Ontario offers a wide range of moose-hunting opportunities.

There are tactics to suit every taste. Although calling is classic, some hunters simply sit downwind and watch cutovers, new burns, marsh meadows, and lake narrows. Other hunters explore backwaters and secluded bays from the seat of a sturdy canoe. Still-hunters stalk game trails, while trackers take to spoor in freshly fallen snow. Each will encounter moose. Each will bask in the thrill of moose country.

These are big animals that require plenty of knock-down power. By mid-autumn a spring calf will weigh up to 400 pounds (180 kg), while an adult cow can push the scales to 800 pounds (363 kg). An adult bull in its prime can weigh as much as 1,400 pounds (636 kg). Classified as Canada moose for scoring recognition, they can sport antlers that stretch to 5 feet (1.5 m).

A non-resident who wishes to hunt moose in Ontario must have valid hunting accreditation from another state or province and be a registered guest and accommodated at an outfitter authorized to issue non-resident moose validation tags. Operators in Ontario offer a wide-range of options, from drive-to camps with all the amenities, to fly-in outposts miles from the nearest road.

This is not a solo activity, especially after you fill your tag. It takes know-how and teamwork to pack out these big animals. Strong backs, reliable vehicles, expert handling of meat, and the right equipment make all the difference in how your "bush beef" will taste on the table.

White-tailed deer

Right now, a massive white-tailed buck is skirting the edge of a southern-Ontario farm field. Another monster is blunting his hooves as he walks along a shield-country ridge amid 100-year-old oak and Jack pines. Still another is peering out through a tangle of black spruce overlooking a logging road in the northwestern edge of the province. Although each has a different home range and habitat, they have one thing in common. This fall, they'll carry their heavy set of polished antlers proudly through the north woods, challenging all rivals and turning even the most hardened hunters into Jello-kneed nimrods barely able to support their own weight. Hunt Ontario's whitetails, and you might consider getting leg braces.

Ontario's deer are big. Their northern range runs through a province known for deep snow and cold. Deer need large bodies to survive in these conditions. Antler growth follows suit. The current Ontario records, a 189 1/8-scoring typical buck shot near Parry Sound, and a 250 1/8-scoring non-typical brute taken in Rainy River district, prove Ontario's ability to grow monster bucks. Mild winters and great nutrition in recent years have meant that more bucks have survived the long winter, grown bigger racks, and extended their range. Now is simply the best opportunity to hunt deer in Ontario in the last 100 years.

Hunting with an outfitter or guide is an advantage for any visitor to Ontario. The outfitter will know the location of the highest deer concentrations and will take care of accommodations, so you can concentrate on hunting. Also be aware that in some Wildlife Management Units non-resident hunters must hunt through an outfitter.

Deer-hunting settings in Ontario can be divided into farm country and big woods. Farm-country hunters concentrate on woodlots and creek bottoms near agricultural fields. Most hunt from tree stands or ground blinds near trails, rubs, scrapes, feeding areas, or by using drives to push deer to waiting standers. Big-woods hunters use these same techniques in deer funnels and logging cuts, but also incorporate still-hunting and tracking into their bag of tricks. In some units in central and northern Ontario, hunters may use licenced dogs to help move deer toward standers, which has become a tradition for many deer camps. You can hunt anyway you want in Ontario by simply picking the appropriate area and an outfitter that accommodates your style.

Choose equipment carefully for an Ontario deer hunt. Autumn temperatures can fall well below freezing and snow is always a possibility. Warm footwear, hats, and layered clothing topped with a wool or fleece shell is vital to enjoy your hunt.

Depending on the location and provincial regulations, hunters should use firearms suitable for large deer. Rifle calibres of .270, 30/30, .308, 30-06, and 7 mm are popular, while 12-gauge shotguns and .50 calibre muzzleloaders are good choices where centrefire rifles are prohibited. Bows must have draw weights of at least 39.9 pounds, have an arrow length of 23.6 inches, and have a broadhead with two sharp, unserrated, barbless straight steel blades at least .87 inches at the widest point to be legal to use for deer hunting in Ontario.

Whichever way you choose to hunt Ontario's whitetails, be ready for excitement.

Black bear

Perched in a tree stand 12 feet above the forest floor, you've finally settled in to a serene mental state. Songbirds glide through the treetops. A ruffed grouse struts in the clearing. Red squirrels chatter and chase in the pines. You could almost fall asleep. Then, the crisp snap of a twig changes everything.

He's out there, stone still in the shadows, testing the air, listening, and watching. If he's like other big bears, his approach will be agonizingly slow. You freeze, knowing that he'll bolt at the first sign of something amiss. Another noise, this time soft padded feet slapping the trail.

He enters the clearing. Predatory eyes look right through you, as you stand frozen. A short eternity later, he breaks his stare and ambles towards the bait, muscles rippling, coat glistening slick and black. You tremble as you raise your rifle. He's the biggest black bear you've ever seen.

This is bear hunting in Ontario. With strong traditions and a population estimated at either side of 100,000 of these great animals, bear hunters here have it as good as it gets.

Typically, sows weigh from 100 to 400 pounds (45.4 to 182 kg), while boars weigh from 250 to more than 600 pounds (114 to 272 kg). They're black, cinnamon, or various shades of brown. Eyesite is comparable to humans. Sense of hearing and smell are highly developed. They're wary and elusive, can smell food from 1 mile away, and move with blinding speed. A black bear is the stuff of legends.

Hunting starts in mid-August when berries ripen and ends November 30 when bears are about to enter winter dens. Between, there's plenty of opportunity to experience a hunt of a lifetime. Experienced hunters come prepared for huge shifts in temperature. A day can begin warm and balmy and end with the bite of a north wind numbing fingers.

Early-season hunters prefer tree stands or ground blinds over bait, since stalking a bear through the thick foliage is impractical. Bait hunting is ideal for the bowhunter. Riflemen, shotgunners, and muzzle-loading enthusiasts also do well in these set-ups, but it's not easy. Scent and noise discipline, patience, and steady nerve are the hallmarks of a good bait hunter. Sitting amidst several hungry bears is not for the faint of heart.

Other dedicated hunters run bear hounds, starting them at predated crop fields, bait stations, or road crossings.

Want to stalk them? Wait until the leaves fall and the mast hits the ground. Then, prowling through beech or oak stands or watching berry patches, burns, or crop fields can provide exciting opportunities.

Ontario welcomes non-resident bear hunters, but remember that most are required to contract the services of a licenced tourist outfitter, guide, or air operator. And, blaze orange must be worn, unless in a tree stand. Likewise, hounds must be licenced. Be sure to check the Ontario Hunting Regulation Summary for other pertinent information. And then, come on over. There's a legend just waiting for you.

Upland game birds

Whether it's the eruption of a woodcock or a ruffed grouse at your feet, or the frozen silhouette of a conifer-perched spruce grouse, Ontario has it all. It's a prime selection, administered by a vast wilderness in autumn disguise. Infused with the aroma of frost-ripened leaves, Ontario delivers strong medicine for the upland hunter.

Draw a bead virtually anywhere in the province. The diversity in climate and terrain is reflected in a choice selection of upland game birds. Within a rich terrestrial fabric rest opportunities for wildfowl, from the ptarmigan of the northern tundra to stately sharp-tailed grouse.

The diminutive woodcock is an explosive bird that enjoys a relatively unmolested period during the Ontario leg of its migration. Woodcock forage worms from moist ground until persistent hard frost drives them south. A dog and hunter duo is the most effective means of bagging timberdoodles, with pointing breeds providing advanced warning of alarmed birds poised to erupt from heavy cover.

Even without a canine companion, walking the perimeter of wetlands stirs up plenty of birds. Carry a 20-gauge in ready position to draw quickly on tight-breaking birds. These long-beaked fowl hold their ground until the last second, making 7 1/2 or 9 shot fired through an improved cylinder or open choke a good combination for close range and tight quarters.

Ruffed grouse are common. They grow skittish quickly under hunting pressure, but a good bird dog or flushing dog helps hunters to connect.

The key to stirring up numbers of ruffies is to use natural features to guide you to them, but don't ignore old logging roads. Walk the circumference of swamps and lakes or along creeks and rivers. Follow eskers, ridges, and the base of hills or mountains. Check transitional zones between upland hardwood stands and pine, spruce, alder, and cedar lowlands. Probe deeper into lowland cover at the start and end of the day, when birds are near their roosts in coniferous cover.

In remote areas, the most challenging part of a wing shot is getting birds to fly. Dogs help to roust semi-tame ruffed grouse or hunters can find a challenge in sharp shooting with a small calibre rifle, where regulations permit, or drawing a bow armed with bird points on standing or perched fowl.

Spruce grouse are perfect candidates for such methods, due to their marked preference for walking over flying. Distinguished by dark plumage accented by a splash of red above the eye, they favour coniferous forests peppered with small openings and can be abundant in sandy replanted areas.

The province has a mix of road-accessible uplands and remote wilderness, as well as experienced outfitters to guide your hunt. They'll provide anything from trip-planning expertise to complete hunting packages throughout Ontario, where the birds are as stirring as the landscape.

Waterfowl

To a wildfowler, there's no greater magic than the sound of air rushing across the pinion feathers of a passing flight of birds. It's that single defining moment when their world ends just past the decoys.

In Ontario, that world can be the windswept mud flats of James Bay, where vast flights of snow geese dance on the wind. It could be a beaver pond halfway to nowhere, where wood ducks and blacks slip between the remnants of long-dead cedars. Or it could be a corn or grain field where giant Canada geese and pot-bellied mallards and pintails come calling for dinner.

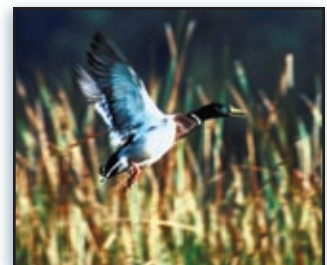

Or perhaps it's a nook or cranny of a massive marsh along one of our big lakes and rivers where strings of canvasbacks, redhead, scaup, goldeneye, or bufflehead stop to rest on their journey south down the Mississippi or Atlantic flyways.

Ontario offers such a wide range of wildfowling experiences that even a lifetime spent hunting is barely enough to sample it all.

Seasons begin in early September for geese, peak in mid-October for ducks, and end in late December when winter sets up shop. Some areas offer additional winter hunts for the province's burgeoning population of resident Canadas. Current limits for both ducks and geese are generous, since Ontario has been a hotspot for waterfowl production in North America for more than a decade.

Many operators offer full-service hunts with dogs, decoys, and transportation, while others offer scaled-down services for experienced hunters.

A good beaver-pond rig consists of two-dozen black, mallard, or wood duck decoys - usually some of each - while big-water rigs for diver ducks often push past the 60 mark. For most situations in Ontario, three-dozen goose decoys placed properly are adequate, although field set-ups often contain two dozen more.

Chest waders and warm, layered, waterproof clothing systems, including hats and gloves, are a must. This is the north country; if you don't like the weather, wait an hour.

Waterfowl hunters require a federal Migratory Waterfowl Permit and stamp, available at post offices, besides a provincial small-game permit. Non-tox shot is required for all waterfowl hunting in Canada.

One last tip, a small green or camo waterproof dry bag for extra socks, camera, snacks, and a Thermos can make even the most miserable day pleasantly bearable.

Walleye

Walleye are the essence of a northern experience. Where these golden fish thrive, the waters are rich and clean. They have a reputation for being a somewhat picky fish, yet they'll snap a jig so hard you can lose your rod. Walleye are also stubborn when it comes time to reel them in. They fight like Jack Demsey did, with deliberate moves and a powerful finish.

Anyone who thinks walleye don't fight has never caught a big one. Trophy walleye are broken off every year by anglers who underestimate the power of these fine fish. Although the average walleye weighs 1 1/2 to 3 pounds (.68 to 1.36 kg), the Ontario record is a hefty 22.25 pounds (10.1 kg). Ten-pounders are possible anywhere.

Walleye are often willing biters that have turned kids of all ages onto the joys of angling. They are light-sensitive fish, and wave action from wind and the low-light conditions of morning and evening can trigger intense feeding activity.

Jigs weighing 1/8- to 3/8-ounce, dressed with soft-plastic twister-tails (yellow, white, black or chartreuse are standards) or shad bodies (perch or firetiger), bucktail, or live bait such as leeches, worms, or minnows, are top producers. Minnow plugs like Rapalas and Rebels and crankbaits such as Shad Raps, Wildeye Minnows, or Wally Divers cast or trolled around shoals and weedbeds account for large numbers of fish as well.

Medium-weight spinning tackle rigged with 8- to 14-pound-test line will handle most situations and baits.

A good depth sounder is a must on most lakes for finding structure that attracts these normally bottom-holding fish. In some lakes, however, big walleye suspend and feed on fattening baitfish like cisco and smelt. Again, a fish finder can help you pinpoint these fish. Hydrographic charts, showing depths and bottom features, are available for many of our drive-to lakes. Experienced anglers never leave the dock without a depth sounder, a chart, or both.

For first-timers, a good guide is always a smart bet. Besides knowing local hotspots, most guides are willing to give on-the-water fishing seminars on tackle rigging and techniques for walleye.

Walleye are found in every region of the province. In most areas, fishing begins in mid-May, peaks in June, and remains steady throughout most of summer. Fall fishing, while not as consistent, often produces the biggest fish of the year. Many lakes also offer hard-water walleye fishing, often from the comfort of a heated ice hut.

Of course, where the walleye really shines is in the pan. A traditional shore lunch of fried walleye fillets, served with sizzling potatoes and piping-hot beans, and enjoyed by a glistening blue lake, is renowned as one of the world's finest feasts. Once you've tasted truly fresh walleye from a northern lake, you'll never look at restaurant fish in the same way.

Muskie and pike

Muskie and pike are designed for killing and eating smaller fish. Like the Grim Reaper, their mere shadows remind all other fish that the end of their life is but a mouthful of razor-sharp teeth away. Anxiety is a way of life for smaller fish. And no other place in the world has more anxious fish than Ontario.

Muskie and pike fishing here has likely never been better. Progressive regulations, improved environmental controls, and catch-and-release regulations have combined to build muskie and pike populations up to or past historical highs.

Visiting anglers targeting muskie and pike can stay at lodges specializing in these species. They'll be able to point you in the right direction to catch fish, and they can often supply knowledgeable guides who can teach even veterans new tricks, provide gear, and offer a better-than-average chance at landing a luncker.

Ontario's muskie and pike fisheries can be divided roughly into two groups: quantity or quality. Quantity water offers lots of action and a chance at trophy muskie of 30 to 35 pounds (13.6 to 16 kg) and pike up to 15 pounds (6.8 kg). Quality waterbodies give anglers a legitimate shot at muskie over 50 pounds (22.7) and pike up to 30 pounds (13.6 kg). Questioning guides and outfitters can help you fine-tune your choice of fishing experience.

Late June into early July, and September through October, are peak muskie times. Begin the season casting bucktails, spinnerbaits, and jerkbaits around weedlines, bays, points, or shoals. Early-summer weather conditions can vary. Bring shorts, sun block, bug repellent, a rain suit, and sweaters to adapt to daily conditions.

In fall, cast or troll large crankbaits, jerkbaits, and oversized bucktails and spinnerbaits around windswept points, islands, and shoals adjacent to deep water. Expect cool to cold fishing conditions. Fingerless gloves, warm boots, hats, and layered clothing are musts. The weather might be unpredictable, but fall is often when the biggest fish of the year are landed.

To target trophy pike, fish deep lakes and river systems in the few weeks after ice-out or in September and October. Spring anglers should cast medium-sized spoons, spinners, and jerkbaits in shallow bays or at rivermouths near spawning habitat. Fall anglers should cast or troll large crankbaits, spoons, and spinners near drop-offs, deep weedlines, and reefs adjacent to deep water.

Visiting anglers should bring 6- to 7-foot heavy-action baitcasting rods, with sturdy reels loaded with 20-pound-plus mono, Dacron, or super braids. Strong, 12-inch or longer steel leaders are musts to prevent bite-offs.

Popular lure colours and patterns in Ontario are bright orange and black, sucker, perch, bumblebee, firetiger, white, black, chartreuse, and combinations of these.

Plan ahead. Your chances at landing lunker pike and muskie are good in Ontario. Consider releasing them to thrill another angler. Handle them with care and respect. Be sure to bring proper release tools, such as landing cradles, fish-handling gloves, jaw-spreaders, pliers, and bolt-cutters to snip off deeply imbedded hooks at their bends. Perhaps you'll tangle with the fish on another trip when it has grown even larger and made many more fish nervous of its shadowy figure in the weeds or along a shoal drop-off.

Bass

Nature could not have designed a better game fish than smallmouth bass. They're like 10 dynamite sticks stuffed into a football. Light the fuse and get ready for serious fireworks. When you hook up with a brown bass, you're likely to witness jumps, flips, and power dives. The second run is even better. It's no wonder so many anglers have become obsessed with them.

Ontario is justifiably famous for great smallmouth fishing. From Kenora to the Kawarthas, Quetico Park to Rainy Lake, and the southern Great Lakes, bronzeback fishing simply doesn't get any better. The average smallmouth approaches 3 pounds (1.36 kg), but lunkers topping 6 pounds (2.27 kg) are caught frequently. The provincial record is a rotund 9.84-pounder (4.46 kg) from Birch Bark Lake near Kinmount. Many anglers think the province is ripe for a new provincial smallmouth record. The question is where. Some feel it will be caught in Lake Erie or Lake Simcoe. Those in the north are talking about Rainy or Lac Seul. Time will tell.

While smallmouth are the bread-and-butter bass of Ontario, don't overlook the great largemouth fishing. They can be caught from most southern-Ontario waters and in portions of the northwest. Ontario's largemouth grow big as well, with many fish each year topping the 6-pound (2.7 kg) mark. The record is 10.43-pounder (4.73 kg) from Preston Lake just north of Toronto.

Bass fishing in Ontario can be as simple or as complicated as you want to make it. Many anglers chase these fish with high-speed boats and an arsenal of rods. Yet, every year, some of the largest bass of both species are caught right off docks with a red and white bobber and a single hook and worm for bait. Bass are equal-opportunity biters. They don't care what you're driving or wearing. Just show them something they want to eat.

For Ontario bass, bring an assortment of lures for a variety of situations. Plastic grubs, tubes, worms, and shads are deadly fished on jigs or rigs. A hot tactic for wary smallmouth in Ontario's big, clear lakes has been to simply cast out a crayfish-coloured tube jig and drag it along bottom on a long line from a drifting boat. Smoke-coloured twister-tail grubs on black jig heads are also sure to interest our bronzebacks.

Look for trophy smallmouth bass to be on the "spot on the spot." Key areas to focus on include large boulders on the top of a reef, or a single deadhead in a weedy bay. Even rocks piled up at the water intake of a cottage will hold bass.

Spinnerbaits are another great choice for both large- and smallmouth bass. A selection of crankbaits, including the Shad Rap, Cordell Ripplin' Redfin, and Smithwick Rogue, are just a few more lures that entice our aggressive fish. And, on a calm day, topwater plugs like the Storm Chug Bug, Rapala Skitter Walk, and Heddon Jitterbug provide some of the greatest thrills bass fishing has to offer. Throw in a handful of in-line spinners, such as the Mepps Aglia or Panther Martin, and you're in business.

Bring your personal choice of bass gear, whether it be spinning or baitcasting rods and reels, but keep in mind that smallmouth are great candidates for medium-light spinning gear. They're usually found in more open water than are weed- and cover-loving largemouths. And, if you like fly fishing, also keep in mind that our smallmouth are suckers for topwater poppers and streamers alike.

If bass fishing makes your heart beat faster, you'll find the ultimate pacemaker in Ontario. Just make sure you don't overdo the old ticker when a big bronzeback hits the air or an old bucketmouth heads for the pads, straining you and your tackle to their limits.

Trout fishing

Cradled within a vast and diverse landscape are waters that do more than scratch an angler's itch. Ontario's abundant lakes and rivers provide trout anglers with something more akin to a full body massage.

It's no accident that the 14.5-pound (6.58 kg) world-record brook trout came from Ontario, and in some waters 20-pound (9 kg) lake trout fail to raise an eyebrow. The water-dappled land is rich in trout fisheries naturally suited to growing large trout in abundance.

Brook trout in lakes are particularly active spring and early fall, when cool temperatures see them cruising the shoreline. Look for brookies in water less than 10 feet deep, near cover like overhanging trees, submerged wood, and rocky structure associated with points and shoals. Troll the shoreline or cast to cover. As waters warm, brook trout move deeper and become harder to find. In cold, swift-flowing rivers, they remain in aerated pools at the base of falls and rapids throughout summer.

A hook and split shot is a simple, effective combination when tipped with a worm, leech, or minnow. Brookies smash artificial lures too, like small to mid-sized spoons, bucktail-dressed spinners, or minnow baits up to 4 inches in length. Bright finishes, such as silver and gold - accented with blue, green, and red - are reliable.

A spinning reel, 4- to 8-pound-test line, and a light-action 6-foot rod will handle anything from pan-sized keepers to 6-pound trophies.

Perhaps the brook trout's most endearing quality is a willingness to take flies. It feeds heavily on insects and will rise for dry flies, as well as inhale nymph and minnow imitations beneath the surface.

Lake trout prefer cold, deep lakes. After ice-out they feed near the surface, but move progressively deeper as waters warm. Throughout summer, wire line or downriggers are needed to connect with fish congregating near bottom anywhere from 40 to more than 100 feet down. On calm days, jigging vertically with heavy spoons or jigs can also take greys. Watch your fish finder for humps, shoals, and drop-offs within the lake trout's comfort zone (about 50°F). Fish around them. For trolling, Try big spoons, 3- to 7-inch minnow-shaped plugs, crankbaits, peanut-sized plugs, or dodger and fly combinations. Silver and gold are traditional favourites, and green, blue, and white accents trigger more strikes.

A medium-action spinning outfit with 8-pound-test line is fine for lakers under 10 pounds (4.54 kg), but sway-bellied greys over 20 pounds (9 kg) call for stout downrigger rods and level-wind reels spooled with 12- to 20-pound line.

Road-accessible waters mean anglers can administer their trout fix at drive-to lodges or fly in to remote locations. Either option ensures you'll be casting into the fabled waters of Ontario - the only reliable way to truly scratch that trout-fishing itch.

Panfish

For most anglers, the word "panfish" conjures up visions of warm summer afternoons, a weathered dock, a gentle breeze, and a red and white bobber that dances on the surface. Worm dunking for plentiful sunfish, bluegill, bullheads, rock bass, and other panfish offers dependable action for the whole family. These days, though, panfishing in Ontario has also matured to a level where pro anglers compete in tournaments to catch them on popular lakes and many non-residents come here just for the smaller fry. But, for the most part, panfish remain a basic and readily available underutilized resource.

Crappie and yellow perch draw the biggest followings of diehard resident and non-resident anglers, since these fish grow the largest and are delicious in a fry pan. The Ontario black crappie record is 3.78 lbs. (1.71 kg), and the average size is 1/2- to 1 lb. (.23 to .45 kg). The provincial record yellow perch weighed 2.42 lbs. (1.1 kg), and they regularly top 3/4 pound (.34 kg) in productive waters.

Crappie are expanding their range in Ontario, making them available to more anglers. The black crappie is common in lower northwestern Ontario and roughly in a line south of the French River, including the Great Lakes, but there are white crappie in the southwest. Yellow perch are in most waterbodies roughly south of James Bay and the Upper Albany River.

Open-water anglers get their first crack at crappie as ice clears from backwaters in April or early May and the fish move inshore to feed and eventually spawn. Top spots include boat cuts and canals, and shallow bays with cover (wood, weeds, docks). In summer, crappie hold along deep weedlines or suspend farther out. They'll hit during the day, especially during overcast weather, but morning and evening are prime.

Light spinning or fly-fishing tackle and 6-pound or less line is suitable for crappie and other panfish. In fact, let the kids bring whatever equipment you can assemble. A 6-foot ultralight spinning outfit, though, is ideal for drifting, casting, or trolling tiny lures. A good second choice is a 9- to 12-foot light panfish float rod.

Effective baits include small live minnows, spinners, panfish jigs, mini-crankbaits, nymphs, and streamer flies. A crappie's eyes are positioned to see upward, so bait should be worked slightly above them. This makes the preciseness of float fishing the way to go once you locate crappie by casting, trolling, or drifting. Hang a live minnow or a 1/32- to 1/16-ounce jig and 1 1/2-inch to 2-inch soft-plastic tube, minnow, or twister-tail body under a panfish slip-float. Scented orange, yellow, white, pink, blue, amber, chartreuse, and baitfish-finishes on jigs and bodies are all productive.

After ice-out in late April or May, scads of perch are also caught near shore, where they spawn. Fishing weedlines, rocks, and flats bordering deeper water pays off through summer. In fall and winter, they are often found in both shallow and deeper water.

Perch are more bottom-oriented than crappie. Light slip-sinker rigs or split shot and a hook with a worm or small minnow are all you need to catch them. Panfish jigs, cast or hung under a slip-float, are also effective.

With year-round seasons and generous bag limits across most of the province, panfish offer an option to take a feed of fish home after your vacation is over, while releasing larger gamefish. No matter where and when you plan your trip to Ontario, local tackle stores and lodge owners can usually put you on good panfishing spots. Get back to your angling roots right here in Ontario.

Great Lakes trout and salmon

Big water has a scent all its own. You could close your eyes, listen to the seagulls, and let your senses transport you to another dimension. Ontario's Great Lakes offer all that, plus the opportunity to fish for some of the world's most challenging game fish: steelhead and Chinook and coho salmon. In some areas, the fabled Atlantic salmon, the diminutive pink salmon, the wary brown trout, and coaster brook trout and lake trout add even more diversity to this outstanding fishery.

When fishing the big, intimidating water of the Great Lakes, the services of a guide or outfitter are always recommended, particularly for anyone unfamiliar or under-equipped to meet the challenge of these inland seas. These professionals are adept at factoring in water-temperature fluctuations, baitfish movements, and the lifecycles of game fish and utilizing specialized tackle, such as downriggers, temperature probes, and fish finders, to keep on top of this information and catch fish. Most use heavy casting tackle and 20-pound-test-or-better line to troll spoons or bait behind flashers and dodgers. Minnow-imitating plugs such as Rapalas and Rebels also get a good workout.

Fish here can grow big. The current Ontario record Chinook salmon weighed 46.38 pounds (21 kg), the rainbow trout 29.12 pounds (13.22 kg), the brown trout 34.4 pounds (15.61 kg), and a coho pushed the scales to 28.64 pounds (13 kg).

For experienced anglers with their own rigs, area tackle shops are top spots for up-to-date information. Tournaments and derbies are another good indication of hot locations and top times. It's a fishery that begins as early as late April in many areas and carries through September.

Spring and fall are top times to fish the hundreds of major tributaries that feed the Great Lakes from Ontario for tackle-busting steelhead. Throw spawning salmon and browns into the mix on most rivers in the fall. Many streams offer year-round or extended seasons in their lower stretches.

Small spoons and spinners and 8- to 10-pound-test line on medium-action spinning rods are basic gear in deeper rivers. Many anglers opt for lighter float rods up to 13 feet in length to drift bait (trout or salmon spawn, worms, tube jigs, and flies) under floats, while purist fly-rodders can handle most situations with an 8-weight rod and floating or sink-tip lines.

So, whether you prefer the hypnotic hum of downrigger wires slicing through a calm summer sea, your lures below seeking salmon, or you like the challenge of wading chilly rivers for spring and fall silver, you'll find it all here in Ontario's Great Lakes and tributaries.

Fishing in Ontario

Every angler dreams of the perfect fishing experience, the perfect challenge, the perfect cast, and, of course, the perfect catch. Fortunately, there's still one place where those dreams are met - and exceeded. And that place is Ontario.

Ontario has a tremendous assortment of freshwater sport fish, but it has an even wider variety of places to catch them. From clear, cold lakes of only a few acres to the largest inland seas on the continent, from rushing streams to big, brawling rivers - whether you pursue your quarry from a boat or canoe, in chest waders, or from shore - there's a fishing hole with your name on it.

If you're looking for an exciting fishing adventure, charter a boat for the day. It's a perfect way to explore Ontario's magnificent waterways. Or board a float plane or train and take off to a remote lake.

Paddling In Ontario

The challenge of a wilderness expedition is something that builds character and tests one's self-reliance. Experience an extended canoe trips or sea kayaking tour and access remote natural wonders and wildlife habitats. There are trips for adventurous souls and wilderness seekers of a variety of paddling skill and fitness levels. Experienced outfitters will help you enjoy the best of the world's freshwater canoe routes, sea kayaking and whitewater adventure holidays. Paddling in the 21st century has come a long way from the 'roughing-it' canoe trips of yesteryear. Come experience it in Ontario.

Wilderness Canoe Trips

As recently as the 1970s, a wilderness canoe trip was considered to be an adventure where enduring the hardships was all part of the experience - primitive stoves, freeze-dried dinners, canvas tents with no floors, heavy packs and even heavier canoes.

Advances in technology, the result of such things as Everest expeditions and the space program, have had an impact on canoeing and kayaking in the wilderness.

Backpacks are ergonomically designed and made from breathable lightweight material. Therma rest mattresses give you a good night's sleep then roll up to nothing. Tents designed for mountaineering expeditions can be found in every outdoor store. Efficient and powerful stoves can cook a gourmet meal as fast as you could in the kitchen at home. Satellite phones and GPS make wilderness adventures safer.

Early explorers and the voyageurs paddled vessels made from birch bark, kept warm with animal pelts, ate what they caught from the wild and kept bugs away by smearing their bodies with mud.

Today, a canoe or kayak experience with one of Paddling Ontario's preferred outfitters brings luxury and convenience to new levels. In fact, many members operate their own retail outlets to complement their expedition business, making them experts in the field of equipment.

Paddling Ontario, an alliance of preferred kayak and canoe outfitters endorsed by Ontario Tourism, has revolutionized canoeing and kayaking by creating comfortable and no-hassle packaged outdoor vacations that includes all the gear you will need.

"Equipment is one of the biggest obstacles to getting into canoeing and kayaking," says Tim Thorne, owner of Thorncrest Outfitters in Southwestern Ontario. "It's a big investment so you should decide before you buy. Take canoe or kayak lessons and go on some guided or all-inclusive trips to make sure it's the thing for you."

Once you've taken your lessons and gone on a few trips, you can visit one of Thorncrest's three retail locations: Southampton, where the Saugeen River flows into Lake Huron; Hanover and a seasonal outlet in Tobermory on the Bruce Peninsula.

The no-hassle approach also applies to expedition planning as evident from the web site for Canoe Canada Expeditions. The company, which celebrates its 30th season in 2004, offers clients a detailed on-line planning survey that asks for a description of the group, skill level, health and physical condition, type of canoe trip, degree of difficulty and the importance of such factors as solitude, history, wildlife and scenery.

"There is an expedition to suit every age and level of ability," says Jeremy Dixon, who runs the Quetico based

With Comfort in Mind

"What we offer is a turn-key approach. With the web site, our clients can plan their own trip and then use our store to rent or purchase the equipment and supplies they'll need for their expedition."

For self-guided trips, most outfitters will review and demonstrate the equipment and go over the maps and point of interest. They will even design a meal plan and pack your food. Canoe Canada boasts that they offer a reward of beer at the end of the trip.

Algonquin Outfitters, based near Algonquin Provincial Park, is another Paddling Ontario outfitter that offers a 'turn-key' approach. Founded in 1961 by the Swift Family, the company operates four retail outlets, two of them year-round operations.

"Bring your own toothbrush and clothing and we do the rest," says Gord Baker, assistant general manager of the company. "We represent the mass market of the canoeing spectrum and many of our clients have never canoed before and don't own their own equipment."

Paddling Ontario's preferred canoe and kayak outfitters are the best sources of information on the latest and best equipment for outdoor adventures.

"The key to a successful expedition is comfort. That applies to the clothing you wear, your footwear, the packs that you carry, your kitchen supplies and your tent and bedding," says Jennifer East of Killarney Mountain Lodge and Outfitters. East and her family have been operating their business on the northern shores of Georgian Bay for more than 40 years. In addition to their comfortable lodge, they run an outfitting store that sells 'soup to nuts' in the equipment world.

When you're going into the wilderness, your equipment is the best friend you will have so it's important to choose the right equipment and know how to use it properly."

company with his father Bud. Quetico, located in the U.S./Canada boundary waters area of Northwestern Ontario, is a vast wilderness region that enjoys an international reputation as an unequalled canoeing destination.

Trail riding is what Ontario snowmobiling is all about. Marked, mapped and interconnected trails make snowmobiling great fun for safe riders who drive with care and control. The Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs (OFSC) operates 43,000 kilometres (25,000 miles) of maintained snowmobile trails, more than there are provincial highways. It is the largest recreational trail system in the world.

OFSC trails are designed to provide snowmobile-friendly access to hundreds of snowbelt communities with top-notch facilities, trailheads, and staging areas. Many of our popular summer holiday destinations are open during the winter to welcome snowmobilers. Resorts, hotels and restaurants offer warm hospitality while many other services are also available, including sled maintenance, spare parts, snowmobile/trailer parking and fuel stops. These snowmobile-friendly locations are always a good source of local information and instruction for novice riders. You don't even have to own a snowmobile because many offer guided tours along with sled and clothing rentals.

Today's reliable sleds and high tech winter wear make snowmobiling more comfortable and enjoyable for everyone, regardless of their age or lifestyle. And wherever you live, snowmobiling is easy, affordable and accessible in Ontario.

So whether you want to experience the down-home hospitality of a rural village or the lights, action and attractions of a big city, you can get there by OFSC trail in snowbelt Ontario. You can stay for several days in one spot and run day trips in every direction, or you can saddle bag from place to place for as long as your heart desires. You can ride one of many well-established, self-guided tours or you can join a guided tour group.

So what's your pleasure? You haven't lived until your sled skims down the trail, whisking around corners and scooting along straight-aways. Or experienced snow flakes twinkling like little diamonds as you ride. Or until you've enjoyed a trailside hot chocolate while the kids play in the snow. Or visited a winter carnival or a maple sugar shack. Or until you've fallen into a weary but satisfied sleep at the end of your day's ride, dreaming of what new adventures tomorrow will bring.

No, you haven't fully enjoyed winter until you and your family and friends have tried snowmobiling in Ontario!

The World's Largest Game Preserve isn't in Africa, it's right here...

The Chapleau Game Preserve is the world's largest covering over 7,000 square kilometers (3,000 square miles).

It was established in 1925 to protect indigenous wildlife from hunting and trapping, and since then the only hunting allowed in the vast Boreal Forest is with a camera. Straddling the height of land between Hudson Bay and Lake Superior it contains an amazing diversity of wildlife; you have a good chance of spotting the tallest animal in North America, the Moose, and if you watch really closely, you may spot the smallest North American mammal, the Pygmy Shrew.

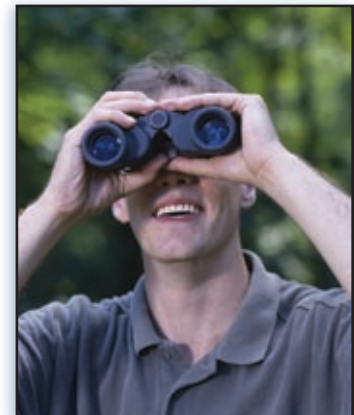

You don't have to go to a park or sanctuary to see wildlife. There are vast remote areas throughout Ontario, particularly in the north. Its not unusual to spot moose, deer or bear near the side of the road in many areas, and real viewing opportunities are just steps off the beaten path.

Look Way Up!

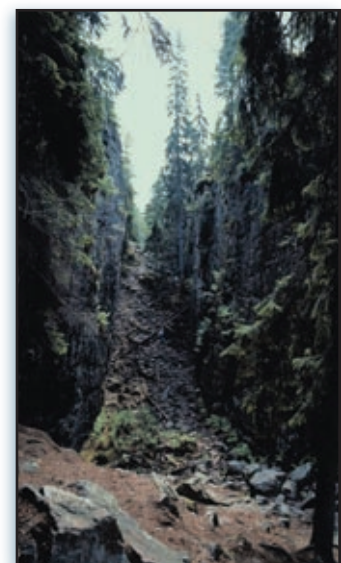

Prepare to be absolutely amazed at how clear our night skies are. Ontario has Canada's first dark sky reserve which protects our clean skies. Who knows, you may even catch a glimpse of the spectacular aurora borealis - our Northern Lights.

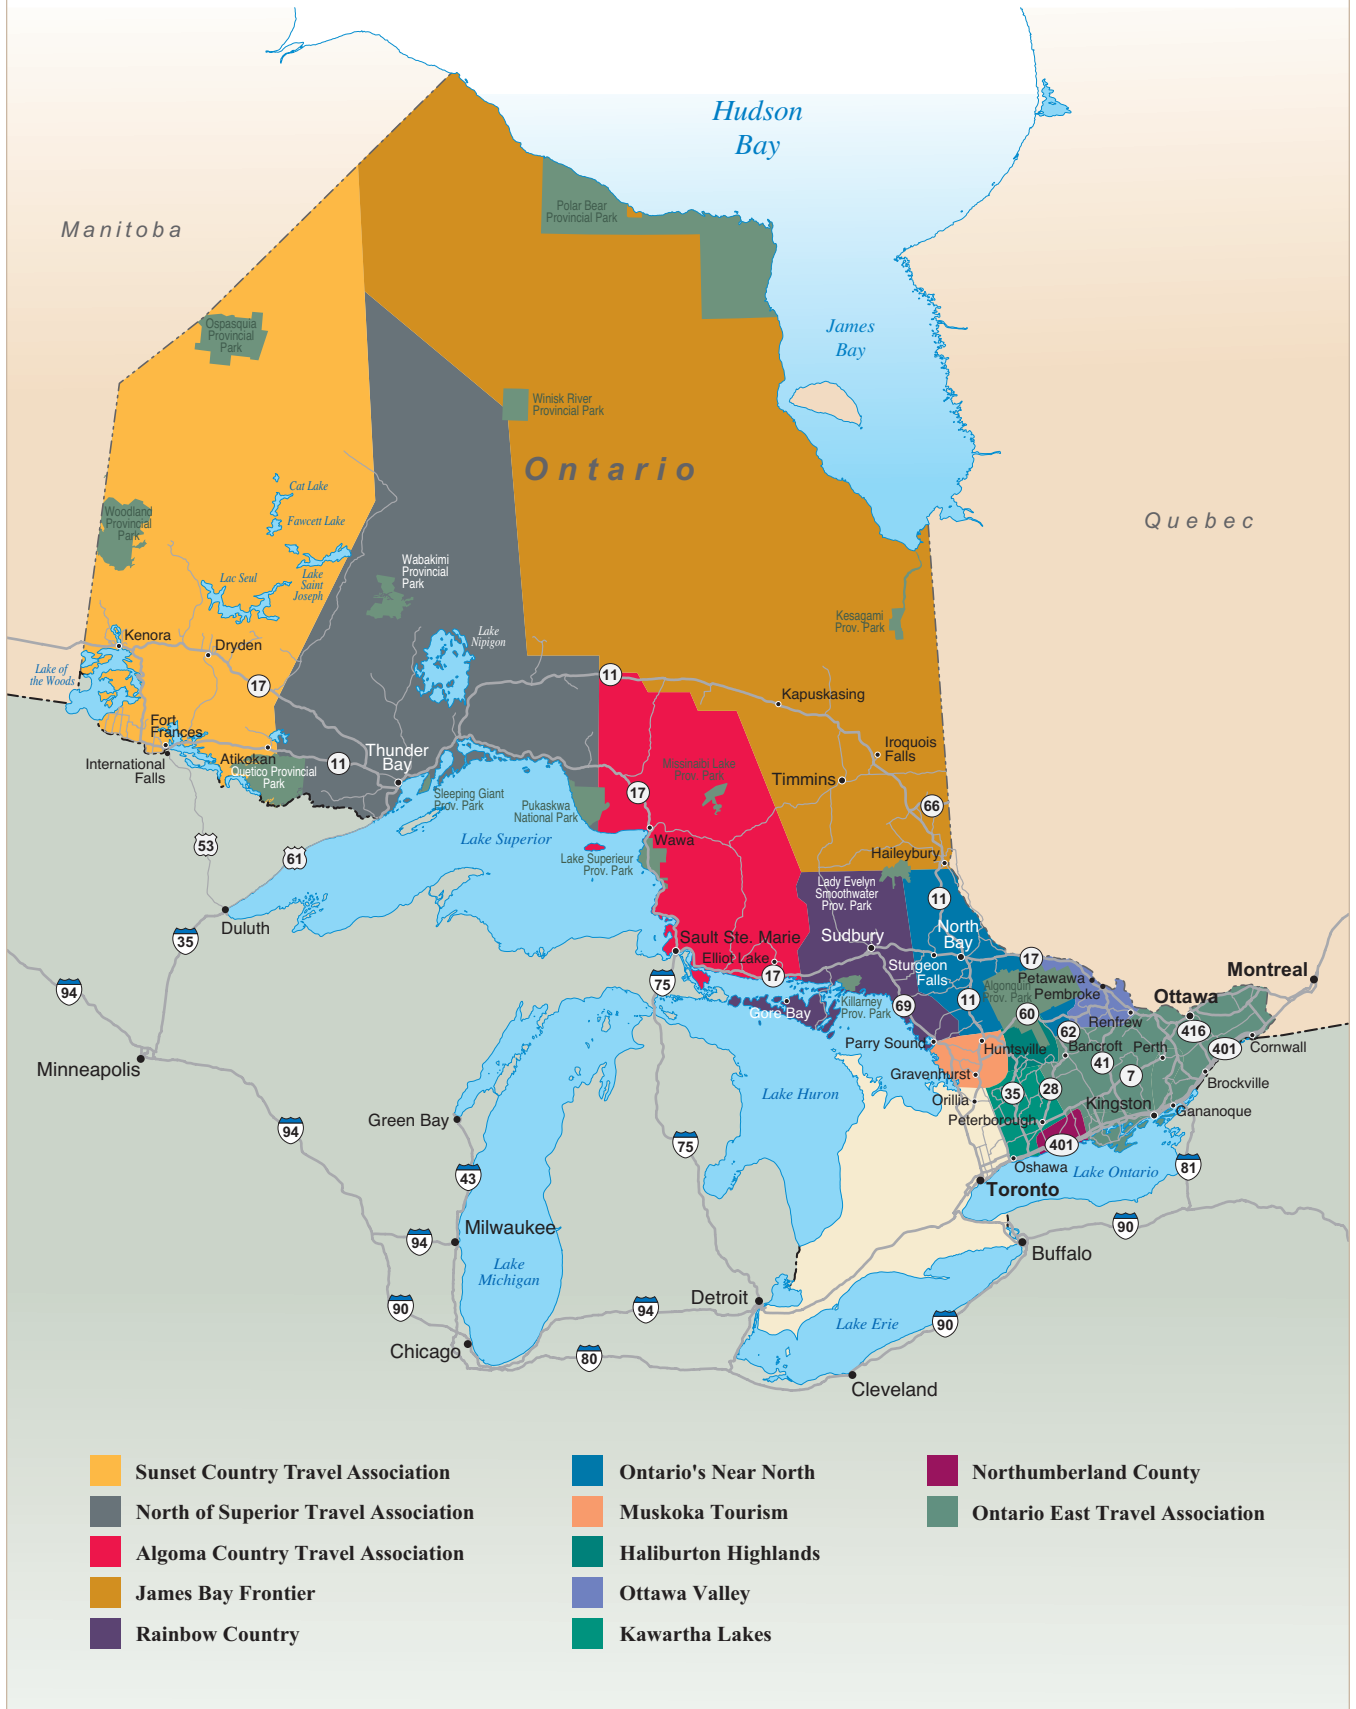

Muskoka's Torrance Barrens, less than a two hour drive north of Toronto, is the world's first permanent Dark Sky Reserve - a protected space free from intrusion by urban light pollution.

The first of its kind in Canada, this 1,990 hectares of crown land southeast of Bala provides few natural vistas that can match the inspirational panorama of the Milky Way - our home galaxy - arching overhead on a cool, clear summer or early-autumn evening. On occasion, the northern lights (aurora borealis) are visible. Several trails suitable for interpretive hikes wind through the Barrens. The bedrock provides a solid basis for astronomical instruments such as telescopes.

Travel into the vastness of northern Ontario, and you'll find wilderness and dark skies everywhere. Whether you came to fish, hunt, canoe or bird watch, take some time after dark to have a look at one of Ontario's most unique natural resources - our brilliant dark skies. You'll be amazed at all there is to see, right above your head.

SUNSET COUNTRY - LOCATION MAP

Welcome to Sunset Country

Sunset Country, Ontario, Canada – The Great Canadian Experience

Escape to an outdoor experience like no other in Sunset Country, Ontario, Canada. This is a place to fish, hunt, canoe or you can just enjoy the beauty of the Canadian wilderness. Covering over 60,000 square miles in Northwestern Ontario, Sunset Country is a land of thousands of freshwater lakes and rivers - teeming with fish and the region has vast tracts of boreal forest inhabited by moose, bear, deer and eagles.

With over 600 lodges and resorts to choose from, you'll be able to find a vacation option that suits your tastes and budget. For our American visitors, Sunset Country is within day's drive from most cities in the U.S. Midwest. For those further afield, jet service is available into cities such as Winnipeg or Thunder Bay and provides you with the opportunity to get here in a few hours from just about anywhere in the continental USA. From Winnipeg or Thunder Bay you can then connect to regional Bearskin flights that will take you just about anywhere in Sunset Country.

Sunset Country has certainly earned its reputation as "Canada's Premier Fishing Destination". With 70,000 fishable lakes, you'll never have to worry about crowds out on the water. We offer anglers the opportunity to catch a wide variety of fish including trophy-class walleye, northern pike, muskie, lake and brook trout, small and largemouth bass, perch, crappie, sauger and whitefish.

Access and species available varies based on the location within Sunset Country. Drive, boat or fly in to your destination. Our fishing is so good because of the management principle of catch and release. Anglers are encouraged to enjoy a tasty shoreline of smaller fish but to let all trophy-sized fish go. This maintains the breeding population in our lakes and ensures that when your grandchildren visit, the fishing will be as good as or even better than it is today.

Big Game and Bird Hunting

Venture north to Ontario's Sunset Country and discover some of Canada's best hunting areas for big game. This region of Ontario is a hunter's paradise - moose, whitetail deer and black bear are all abundant. The lush boreal forests of Northwest Ontario have natural cover and food supply that produces BIG animals. Success rates are higher on a consistent basis than many other areas in Canada and the USA. If you're a bird hunter, you'll be happy to know that this part of Ontario is on the migration flyway for many species of waterfowl. Duck and geese hunting are excellent. Our hunting websites will help you find the outfitter who can work with you in booking your hunting trip. Visit the website with information on the species you want to hunt: www.ontariomoosehunting.ca; www.ontariodeerhunting.ca; www.ontariobearhunting.ca or www.ontarioduckhunting.ca

Outposts and Fly-In Lodges

Fly in fishing is the ultimate Canadian angling experience! Here you'll access true "wilderness" areas and experience freshwater fishing of a quality unlike any other place in North America? Fly-in outpost cabins offer anglers complete seclusion - the opportunity to have a lake all to yourself - and not see another soul for the duration of your fishing trip. If you want to enjoy the solitude a fly-in offers but you don't want to cook your own meals, then try one of the many American Plan fly-in or boat-in lodges located in Sunset Country.

Here you can enjoy the beauty of the backcountry, spectacular fishing and still get all the necessary "creature comforts" of home. For more information on outpost cabins and lodges visit our specialty fly in website at www.ontarioflyinoutposts.ca

Full-Service Lodges

While, many who venture to Sunset Country come here to enjoy the wilderness beauty and great fishing, another reason these people visit the area is the excellent service and amenities available at our full-service American Plan lodges. Many of the packages available are "all-inclusive" and provide you the opportunity to relax and enjoy your vacation while your hosts look after all the details. These lodges offer guided fishing trips accompanied by great meals, and fine accommodations. For more information on this type of fishing experience, look under the "American Plan" link on www.ontariofishingresorts.ca

Housekeeping Cabins

If you like to fish on your own schedule and not have to worry about making it back in time for supper, then renting a housekeeping cabin is the solution. Housekeeping plans provide you with flexibility in your daily schedule and the ability to cook your own meals when you come off the water. Housekeeping cabins are also very affordable for families visiting the area - why not take your family up to Canada for a great time on the lake? Visit our resort website at www.ontarioresortsandlodges.ca for information on housekeeping packages available from our members.

Campgrounds

Another alternative is to trailer your own boat behind your RV and stay at one or more of the 80 campgrounds that are members of our Travel Association. Flexibility in fishing location is the most tangible benefit of being mobile. Fish the lake you're staying at or choose to fish other nearby lakes that have public boat launches. Our campground operators also offer their guests rental boats if needed. For a quick link to the campgrounds in Sunset Country visit www.ontariocampgrounds.net

Wilderness Canoe Trips

Another great way to access Sunset Country's fantastic fishing resources and remote wilderness is by canoe. Sunset Country is home to some of Ontario's most remote river systems and there are more than 5 "wilderness parks" to choose from. One of them, Wabakimi Provincial Park, has over 12,000 lakes within its boundaries. Other famous canoe destinations include Quetico and Woodland Caribou Provincial Parks. For the ultimate wilderness canoe experience venture to the far northern reaches of Sunset Country where you can see polar bears and beluga whales along the Hudson Bay shoreline.

Many of these parks have established canoe routes or you can chart your own journey if you wish. There are plenty of options available for individuals and groups, guided or self outfitted, you'll find what you need from one of our member canoe outfitters. Enjoy spectacular scenery and a pristine wilderness environment as you paddle to your fishing destination. For more info on wilderness canoe routes and canoe outfitters, visit www.canoenorthwestontario.ca

Houseboating

For a truly unique experience on a freshwater lake, the option of renting a fully-equipped houseboat is available. Explore some of Sunset Country's largest lakes - Lake of the Woods, Rainy Lake or Lac Seul - and enjoy all the beauty in the comfort of your cabin "on the water" (and we mean "on" the water). Our houseboat operators will show you everything you need to know including how to safely operate and navigate the boat, where all the best fishing spots are and how to enjoy your week on the lake from the deck of your houseboat. Mid-week checks by the operator ensure that you are well-supplied and that you are having a good time. For more information on how to rent a houseboat visit www.ontariohouseboats.ca

Regional Touring - Towns & Cities

For those travelling in an RV or by car, Sunset Country has many smaller-sized towns and cities with lots of things to see and do. Travel backcountry roads and venture into communities where everyone is waiting with a smile and a friendly "hello" for visiting tourists. Each and every community has something unique and different to see and do. Drop in for a bite to eat at a local eatery or visit local museums and other attractions. Photo opportunities present themselves everywhere. Do a circle tour on Highways 17 and 11 or venture up the Red Lake Road or the Highway 599 Wilderness Corridor. Discover new people and places as you tour the towns and cities in Ontario's Sunset Country. For more information on communities in our region visit www.ontariotowns.net

Medicine Stone Resort and Outposts in Northwestern Ontario is a remote isolated drive in summer fishing resort 15 miles west of Red Lake. We are the only resort on an 8 mile long deep spring fed rugged scenic lake, home to walleye, northern pike and lake trout. The more adventurous fishermen also take advantage of nearby lakes accessible by portages and equipped with boats and motors. If solitude is what you are looking for with the adventure of a life time, we have three fly in outposts. Trophy Lake is famous for the big northern pike. Kitty Hawk outpost hosts walleye and lake trout, it faces west on a sandy beach between two lakes. HyVee outpost hosts blue walleye, walleye and lake trout, with many portage lakes to try. All outposts have hot water, showers and light housekeeping.

If you are a trophy northern pike or walleye, this is where you want to live! And if you are a northern pike or walleye angler, this is where you want to fish! Mother Nature blessed Red Lake with the conditions for a fishing paradise: varied depths, irregular shoreline, islands, weedbeds and an abundance of baitfish. Bow Narrows Camp is right in the heart of this fishing bonanza. Start fishing at the dock and never go more than 20 minutes away. Guides are just unnecessary. A strong conservation ethic by our anglers means this great fishing just gets better and better. We take you by boat 20 miles from the highway to the camp. Eight cabins and the lodge have bathrooms, kitchens and 24-hour electricity. American Plan or Housekeeping Plans include everything, from parking for your car to the cleaning of your fish. Bow Narrows is famous for its American Plan dining. Bring a strong fishing rod and a healthy appetite! Our personal service, accommodations and beautiful setting make the difference between a fishing trip and an awesome experience. Help us celebrate our 45th year!

You've heard the stories ... walleye as plentiful as the water itself ... record size muskies and plentiful pike ... all surrounded by pristine Canadian wilderness. It's Lac Seul ... and all the stories are true. Come enjoy all fishing Canada has to offer...without sacrificing any of the comforts of home. A houseboat vacation with Sioux Lookout Floating Lodges (SLFL) will be everything you've imagined and more. Many camps claim to offer Lac Seul Fishing, but did you know 99% of them aren't even located on the Lake? Your scarce vacation time is valuable. Do you really want to waste four hours of it (every day, two hours up and two back) bouncing around in a boat before you even get to wet a line? That's what awaits you with camps that offer "Lac Seul access." But with SLFL, you can be fishing while the others are still driving. In sizes of 50, 60 and 68 feet, your luxury houseboat offers all the comforts of home, no restriction on the amount of gear you can bring (unlike expensive fly-ins) and best of all ... your favourite fishing hole is literally right outside your back door!! Practical and affordable, a fishing vacation with SLFL will be one you want to repeat year after year.

NORTH OF SUPERIOR - LOCATION MAP

Welcome to Canada's North of Superior Country

North of Superior Travel Region stretches from the Pigeon River border crossing north to the Albany River; east of White River to English River on the west. Within these boundaries you will find spectacular scenery, pristine fish-filled lakes and rivers, picturesque communities – both large and small, friendly people and an abundance of places to stay and activities to experience.

Beginning spring through to fall you can spend your time fishing, hunting, camping, hiking, sight seeing, canoeing, kayaking, visiting attractions, discovering spectacular parks, shopping and much more.

Exploring the North Shore of Lake Superior you'll discover a boater's paradise. Follow the voyageur routes and explore more than 500 nautical miles of scenic shoreline – from sandy beaches to towering bluffs that plunge deep into the sparkling water, the north shore of this inland sea is a picture of contrasts.

From delicate lavender to rich midnight hues, the amethyst of northwestern Ontario is a treasure of purple. These semi-precious gemstones are found in quantity only here and in six other countries in the world, but no other place on earth produces amethyst of such quality – and in such quantity. Be sure to visit one or more of the area mines for a unique pick-your-own gemstone adventure where you can choose your own specimen right from an open pit mine.

Winter enthusiasts will easily fill a busy travel agenda. Catch air in the half-pipe on your snowboard. Take the reins with a team of sled dogs. Drop bait through a hole on a frozen lake. Tackle thickly glazed cliffs and discover why the popularity of ice climbing is soaring.

While in the region you can also enjoy snowmobiling, snow skiing, snowshoeing or you can take it easy and go shopping, relax, enjoy the theatre or a symphony, and see many impressive sights.

If snowmobiling is what you are looking for you can expect top-rate rides on the extensive trail network maintained by North of Superior's eight dedicated OFSC snowmobile clubs. Wide OFSC trails lead you to the highest, most challenging mountainous terrain in northern Ontario or into the glory of deep-powder riding. There's a different adventure on every trail where snowmobilers can easily find trailside fuel stops, cozy lodging and hot, hearty fare to satisfy their well-earned hunger.

North of Superior is a four season travel destination. Home of the famous Lake Superior Circle Tour and endless travel and adventure possibilities. Explore around this site to discover all our region has to offer! If you require additional information, or would like us to send you a travel package, phone our toll free number. Our friendly travel counselors will be happy to assist you with your travel itinerary and to answer all your travel inquiries.

Canoeing and Kayaking

The world's best canoeing! Once you've experienced our magnificent waterways, you'll know it's true; Our wilderness remains so unchanged, you almost expect to see a canoe laden with fur trappers and their valuable pelts, paddling to a long abandoned trading post which welcomed them two centuries ago.

Throughout North of Superior you'll find an adventure, from the solitude of a northern lake, the stillness broken only by the occasional call of a loon, or in challenging the thundering white water of a river in winter run off.

Whether you are interested in a complete outfitted and guided tour or prefer to launch a self-guided outing, there is an endless variety of suggested routes. Our national and provincial parks along with private operators offer routes and maps. Wilderness outfitters and sports suppliers in every community can provide all the gear and information you'll need.

While there are a variety of canoe routes throughout the region, over 2 million acres of the finest wilderness canoeing in the world are found near Armstrong in Wabakimi Park. The park's interconnected waterways wind through the home of rare and secretive caribou. With no roads of any kind in the park, Wabakimi is a pure wilderness experience requiring complete self sufficiency, a good reason to go with an experienced outfitter. For a list of businesses that provide map sales, please contact North of Superior Tourism at 1-800-265-3951.

North of Superior also features a unique option – sea kayaking! Lake Superior, the world's biggest freshwater lake has big seas and rolling waves much like an ocean. Kayaking along the northern shore, in huge bays or on the open water, is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Superior Outfitters in Rosport rents sea kayaks and other supplies for the on-the-water enthusiast.

Cross Country Skiing

The sport of cross-country skiing is flourishing in most every city and town in the North of Superior Region. Extensive networks of groomed trails and a vast untracked wilderness for the adventurous overland skier are always close at hand. Within the city of Thunder Bay are Kamview and Centennial ski trails and chalets. Just outside the city is the Lappe Ski Club, boasting a labyrinth of groomed trails and a warm chalet. The winter experience at Kakabeka

Falls Provincial Park features the towering natural ice sculpture of the falls.

Each March, Sleeping Giant Provincial Park, another access to wilderness trails, is home to the annual Sibley Ski Tour. The event, which attracts over 800 participants competing in 50, 20 and 10 kilometer distances, has a picturesque mass start at Pass Lake and is a true family affair.

Cross-country ski trails, usually complimented by community clubs and chalet facilities, are found throughout the North of Superior Region in Nipigon, Geraldton, Longlac, Schreiber, Terrace Bay, Marathon and Manitouwadge. Everywhere our breathtaking northern views will remind you why visiting North of Superior is a winter adventure worth repeating.

Fishing

Look no further than North of Superior for the best sport fishing in the world. Nowhere are there more lakes and rivers accessible to the serious or recreational angler. Float planes touch down on secluded lakes. Remote outpost resorts provide a variety of comforts and amenities. Guides know the secret sources of success – the perfect lure, the best time of day, that quiet bay where the fish await your line.

Thousands of clear, cool lakes are filled with favourite catches – walleye (pickerel), several species of trout including speckled, Thunder Bay rainbow and lake trout, bass, northern pike, sturgeon, whitefish, yellow perch and more. Resorts and outfitters are the best source of information about fishing opportunities in their particular area.

Lake Superior offers a very unique fishing experience...deep water fishing for trophy-size lake trout and salmon. Freshwater salmon are being actively restocked into the lake by the Thunder Bay Salmon Association from their hatchery in Kakabeka Falls.

From the earliest spring thaws to the broad plains of solid lake ice in the winter months, world class fishing is available year-round in the North of Superior region. Restrictions do protect many species in terms of season, size, bait and catch allowances.

Quotas and size limits are important and effective tools in maintaining our rich fish stocks and the quality of sport fishing in Ontario. Fishing licenses are required.

Ontario encourages the catch and release program in lakes across the province. Returning little ones allows them to grow and mature. Putting back the bigger fish too, means more fish as these are the ones responsible for breeding. To be a successful catch and release angler, all fish, big or small, must be handled and returned to the water carefully to avoid stress and injury. Many resort operators support the catch and release program. They will be happy to demonstrate correct procedures for the various species of fish in their area. Literature is also available from Ontario's Ministry of Natural Resources.

And, not to be forgotten, ice fishing is, no doubt, one of the most interesting experiences for true fishing enthusiasts. Across our northern latitudes, the hardy gather on expanses of lake ice to drill a hole and jig for fish usually hidden during the winter months. There are those who enjoy all the comforts of home in their tiny "ice houses," including heat, light and furniture, while they sit and socialize around the hole. There are also those who "rough it" on the open expanse of the frozen lake.

Hunting

North of Superior is a prime moose and bear-hunting destination. Majestic moose, crowned with massive antlers browse the rivers, lakeshores and logging clearings across the region. The hunting season extends from mid-September through mid-November. Black bear are hunted in the fall. These wary creatures make for a challenging hunt.

There is no shortage of small game and birds for the hunter who prefers a less arduous outing. Hunting is carefully regulated in Ontario to ensure the stability and health of the animal population. Licences are required. Hunters are encouraged to take advantage of the services of tourist outfitters who are able to provide licencing information and guide services as well as accommodation, hospitality and other hunt-related needs.

Snowmobiling

If you are an enthusiastic snowmobiler, you will be thoroughly pleased by the news that Ontario has developed a Trans-Provincial Snowmobile Trail system. Our trail network weaves over glorious hills and around picturesque lakes throughout the North of Superior region. The scenery is breathtaking. Food, fuel, parking, accommodations and other amenities are available along the trails in trail-side towns or at local lodges and resorts.

maps or news on the status of local trails.

For more information about the exciting attractions, accommodations and outdoor activities that await you in Northern Ontario, feel free to call our toll free number. One of our tourism counselors will be happy to assist you with your travel plans.

For a copy of the Lake Superior Circle Tour Adventure Guide, or other detailed information to assist you in your travels, send us an email with a detailed description of what you would like, or call our toll free number. Please allow 3 to 4 weeks to receive your travel information package.

Within the North of Superior region, Manitowadge, Marathon, Terrace Bay, Schreiber, Rossport, Nipigon and Thunder Bay are active in the development of the trail network. These Trans-Provincial trails are in a continuous state of development as the system is expanded. If you intend to travel on unfamiliar sections of the system, contact a visitor information centre or township office in the vicinity. They will have current

Welcome to Algoma Country

Perhaps the most appreciated of the many pleasant surprises facing visitors to Algoma Country, in Northern Ontario, is the fact that one can experience the thrill of rugged wilderness areas without having to forego the comforts of urban living.

Since much of the 22,000 square miles of Algoma Country is unspoiled wilderness, the possibilities are endless for those who enjoy outdoor adventure. Nestled between two of the greatest lakes – Lake Superior and Lake Huron, some of the finest fishing in the world is available in the hundreds of lakes in the area. Whether it is a fly-in cabin, a drive-in lodge, or a train resort you are looking for, Algoma Country has an outdoor vacation waiting just for you.

Moose, bear and small game offer hunters the ultimate challenge in Algoma Country. Or, if it's a quiet campsite or a walk along a wooded nature trail that is in order, any of our provincial parks or private campgrounds can more than fit the bill. Nature's gifts are in abundance, whether it is rockhounding, bird watching or just breathtaking scenery. Algoma Country has it all.

Don't forget winter. A variety of recreational adventures await you in Algoma Country, which offers hundreds of kilometers of groomed cross country ski trails, over 2,000 kilometers of groomed snowmobile trails and several downhill ski facilities. Algoma Country also boasts some of the finest winter carnivals you'll ever see. Get away for some restful ice fishing or just a cozy weekend in a log cabin nestled in big snow country where the possibilities for an unforgettable winter vacation are almost endless. For those looking for a vacation in a more urban setting, the cities and towns of Algoma offer some world class attractions, both nature and man-made. Take a boat cruise through the Sault Locks, the busiest lock system in the world. Stop at the Blind River Museum and enjoy artifacts from years gone by that highlight the area's lumbering history, tour through the Norgoma, the last overnight cruise vessel on the Great Lakes. Explore the Chapleau Game Preserve, the largest in the world. Spend a day in Elliot Lake or a week enjoying all that this "Jewel in the Wilderness" has to offer. Stop in at White River the home of Winnie the Pooh. Traverse the longest continuous curve on the Trans Canada Highway. See the largest freestanding lighted cross in the world. Investigate the Agawa Indian Pictographs. Witness a 4,000 lb., 30 ft. Canada Goose (made of metal of course).

For those travelling by car, a series of driving tours can give the visitors a first-hand view of the rich history, the geography, the wildlife and the spectacular scenery that makes up Algoma Country. Maps and trip planners are available pointing out the various points of interest along the way. These tours include the Lake Superior Circle Tour, the Lake Huron Circle Tour and the Deer Trail Tour.

Nestled between the rugged shores of Georgian Bay and the Canadian Shield, Rainbow Country begins just a short 2 1/2 hours drive north of Greater Toronto and just 3 1/2 hours from the Michigan border at Sault Ste. Marie.

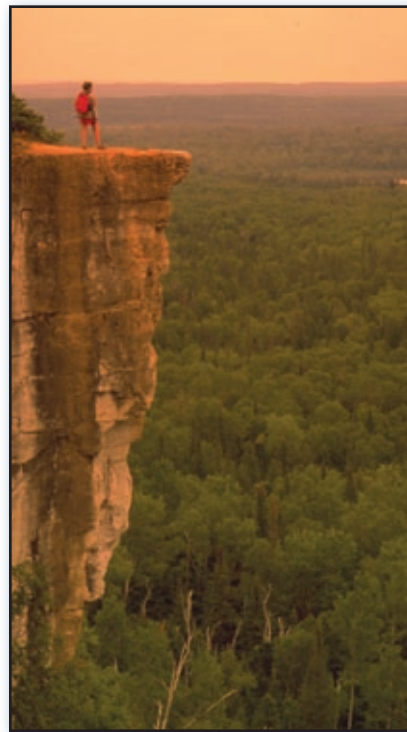

Parry Sound & Pointe au Baril

This area offers a taste of the north within easy reach of the south! It's intimate, majestic and waiting to serve you.

French River

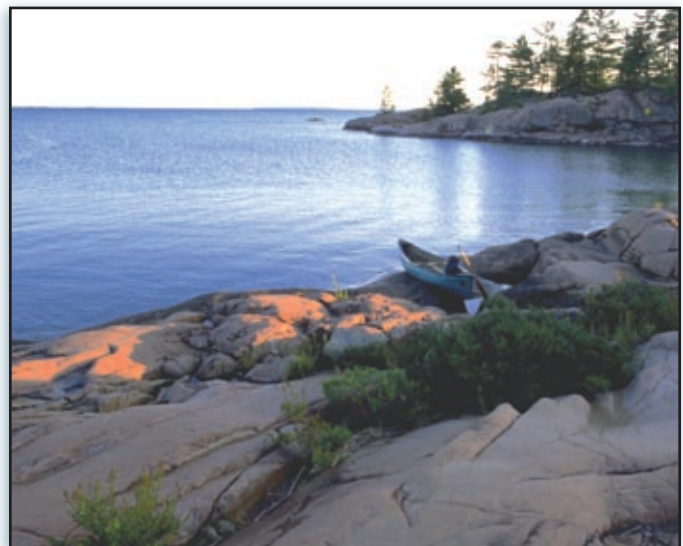

With natural surroundings, spectacular rivers, you can almost hear the songs of the voyageurs echoing in your mind. If ever there was a place to drop a line in, this is it. One of Canada's finest outdoor vacation areas offering today's fisherman a variety of accommodations in a truly historical setting. All the traditional northern species inhabit the waters, including muskie and bass! While there, be sure to visit the resorts, shops, villages and towns that make the French River a must see destination.

There is much, much more to see and do... you'll want to visit this summer...and come back this autumn! For more information on vacation opportunities please contact Rainbow Country Travel Association.

RAINBOW COUNTRY - DISPLAY ADVERTISING

Welcome to James Bay Frontier

There's something almost untouchable about breathing in clean, fresh air on an early summer morning. Air so clean-smelling and good, your lungs can't get enough of it. The sun sparkles off the water of a nearby lake and filters through the dense cover of leaves and branches in the quiet northern forest. The only sound is the wind swishing through the tree tops, the trill of the loon and the sing-song call of the chickadee. That's when you know you're in Northern Ontario.

Those who live here sometimes take it all for granted. People who don't live in the North can't seem to get enough of it once they spend some time here.

Witness the excitement of those who experience their first look at a magnificent flock of Canada geese flying overhead in their famous V-formation. Listen to the gasp of a visitor who sees the awesome Aurora Borealis for the first time. Imagine the exhilaration of a rookie paddler riding their canoe through the rapids on one of our great northern rivers. Consider the excitement of hooking onto a swift Northern Pike that runs deep and fast and bends your fishing rod almost to the breaking point.

It's easy to understand why thousands and thousands of travelers worldwide are slowly becoming aware of a fabulous piece of Ontario known as the James Bay Frontier.

They're finding it to be an amazing destination for wilderness getaways. Whether its for fishing, hunting, snowmobiling, bird-watching, hiking, canoe-tripping or just a quiet afternoon of berry picking, this part of Ontario has it all.

The small cities and towns in this region are relatively new, all being created within the last hundred years in response to the rush for silver and gold and lumber. Mining camps sprung up across the region. There were stories of fantastically rich discoveries, fabulous wealth and the inevitable hard times. For the most part, the history here is young, but rich. But there is also the story of the fur trader and the voyageurs that arrived here centuries earlier to bring the riches of the new world back to Europe. Now as then, the northern forests were filled with wildlife. Moose, bear, beaver and wolves all thrive here.

The good life in the North goes on all year. Winter is welcomed here. The fabulous colors of the forest in the fall only serve to remind us that winter will soon impose itself with an amazing covering of ice and snow. There are those who see winter as something to be endured. But winter here is a time when the skiers enjoy their favorite hills or quiet cross country trails. The frozen lakes whisper their invitations to ice fishing enthusiasts. Even bird watchers thrill to finding those unique species that survive what winter has to offer.

Snowmobilers know this part of the country as a veritable sledder's paradise. The backcountry trails offer spectacular scenery and it's hard to beat the rush of kicking the throttle up a notch and skimming the machine over a vast frozen lake.

The night brings a new dimension to the huge wilderness of this region. Vacationers who spend time at one of the many resorts often marvel at really seeing the true night sky for the first time.

Although this area is only half a days drive from the biggest cities in the country, its remoteness pays off by being free of light pollution. The big cities all have zillions of particles of dust and smoke and smog that reflect the city lights back to earth.

In the North, the air is clean and clear. The night sky is wide open and glittering with the galaxies, stars and planets that inspired all the civilizations before us. The northern lights, the meteor showers and even space satellites can be seen.

By day the scenery of the James Bay Frontier can be awe inspiring. It's no wonder that painters and photographers love this area. The huge forests are intertwined with hundreds of rivers, flowing in and out of thousands of lakes surrounded by rugged outcrops of the ancient rock of the Canadian Shield. This is the splendor of Northern Ontario.

The communities of the James Bay Frontier are as varied as the geography. There are tiny farming centres that have museums rich with local histories. There are mining towns where you can relive the boom days of the past or take a tour in a working gold mine. There are vigorous logging towns and forestry operations that harvest the northern forest and ship lumber and wood products all over the world.

One common theme throughout the region is hospitality. The people of the James Bay Frontier have landed here from around the world. Our First Nations residents have kept the lands safe and sacred for centuries. Tolerance and respect are essential. It's easy to understand why visitors are greeted with a welcoming smile and a handshake. There are dozens of communities that cater to the needs of the traveler with excellent lodges, resorts, hotels, motels and restaurants. Campers and RV-ers are just as welcome as there as numerous campgrounds and trailer facilities throughout the region.

Wildlife abounds. You can see moose, elk, bison and even polar bears in captivity, in environmentally sound habitats. In the natural setting of the wilderness, it is common to see wildlife. In fact many resorts and provincial parks in the region have wildlife watching programs.

The vacationer can also enjoy travel throughout the region. There are excursions by train, by boat and even by plane. Our fly-in adventure outfitters are world class.

The people of this part of Ontario are also celebrated in several ways.

The region has been home to several world renowned athletes, especially for winter sports such as skiing, skating and hockey. You can even tour an interpretive centre dedicated to one of the world's most famous country singers.

History is a celebrated theme in this region. One reason is that much of our history is so recent. The railroad began moving north in 1902. The adventure seekers and pioneers soon followed and they founded the mines, the lumber mills and the farms. As the century unfolded, the region grew and prospered. The history includes some of the world's richest mines, the world's largest pulp and paper plant, the creation of a worldwide newspaper empire, the building of railway through nearly 200 miles of muskeg and the conception of a new model town spawned in the boardroom of the New York Times.

Traveling to the James Bay Frontier is not just a vacation. It's an adventure.

Welcome to Ontario's Near North

From the granite cliffs of Lake Temagami and the sandy shores of Lake Nipissing to the beautiful Almaguin Highlands, Ontario's Near North is the ultimate outdoor four season vacation destination.

It's a beautiful corner of Ontario where you can paddle the historic Mattawa and Sturgeon Rivers, tracing the same route used by Voyageurs a long time ago. It's an area rich in heritage where you can visit places like the Magnetawan River where steamboats played a major role in building this region.

No matter what season you visit there's always plenty to see and do. We are home to 6 provincial parks including the world renowned Algonquin Provincial Park. Our region is famous for its incredible angling. There are literally hundreds of lakes in the area which are home to over 10 species of sports fish.

country skiing, dog sledding, and icefishing.

In the heart of the beautiful Almaguin Highlands, lie award winning maple syrup producers. This area has been producing maple syrup and sugar since pioneer times. Maple syrup, maple butter, a variety of homemade sugar and candy are available year round.

Wildlife photography is particularly rewarding in the Near North. A short hike along a forest trail is almost guaranteed to produce an opportunity to view a denizen of the deep forest in your lens and record the experience for future enjoyment. Moose, grouse, loon, beaver, squirrel, chipmunks and

Explore our Discovery Routes, an extensive network of four season trails with an incredible variety of outdoor fun spanning the entire region.

Every winter we welcome snowmobilers who enjoy the thousands of kilometers of groomed Near North Trails and our special brand of northern hospitality. This region is also a great location for winter camping, back rabbits abound in the area and often provide the raw material for great outdoor photos.

Opportunities for wilderness canoe tripping in the Near North cannot be matched anywhere else in Ontario.

The large network of rivers and lakes establishes the region as Canada's largest inter-connecting canoe route system. From casual day outings to extended remote tripping, there are routes to suit every scope of paddler.

The renowned waterways of the Wolf and Pickerel Rivers; the historic "Champlain Trail" along the Mattawa and French Rivers; and the rugged Temagami wilderness have by their beauty and tranquility, enticed adventuresome paddlers for decades.

In the fall, a large number of tourist operators in the area offer hunting and fishing package plans. Grouse, duck, deer, bear and moose can be hunted in the area.

Our region is small and intimate in size, you can be in the heart of the wilderness while at the same time only minutes away from most urban amenities. Visit our many museums, enjoy spectacular scenery, spend quality time at a secluded cottage or take in some world-class fishing on countless lakes, rivers and streams. The people of Ontario's Near North are ready to welcome you.

Smoothwater is a family-run ecodge, located in the Temagami wilderness of northeastern Ontario. Temagami is home to Canada's largest red and white pine old growth forests, Ontario's two highest points of land and North America's largest canoe route system featuring hundreds of interconnected lakes and rivers. At the ecodge, original artwork, flowers, books, and antiques grace the Great Room and guest quarters to create a welcoming, relaxing atmosphere. In our open kitchen adjacent to the dining room, we lovingly prepare acclaimed gourmet meals that feature organically grown regional foods. During the open water season, Smoothwater offers professional outfitting services that include home made trip food, high quality canoes, kayaks, guides, shuttles and expert route advice. Guided trips for families and women are scheduled throughout the summer. Our Temagami Tree-Hugger paddle/hike weekends are very popular. Courses are available in painting, photography, cooking, canoeing, and yoga - wonderful ways to enhance your Temagami experience. In winter, guests enjoy cross country skiing, snowshoeing, dog sledding and winter camping on 50 km of stunning backcountry trails that are groomed and "off limits" to snowmobiles. Two overnight trail cabins provide warm and cozy backcountry lodging for those who yearn for the quiet solitude of a still winter.

Welcome to Muskoka

Once Discovered, Never Forgotten

The would-be farmers who received the first land grants in Muskoka in the mid-1800's quickly determined that it was not a place where one could easily live off the land – they were going to have to live off the water and the woods as well. Muskoka's first rustic lodges were born as those settlers opened their homes to hunters and anglers who were drawn by the region's resources.

Over the years lodges proliferated and grew; some became resorts while other groups built their own private retreats. The rocky shores echoed with the timber man's axe and the hunter's rifle while the lakes were plied by mighty steamships bringing a new kind of settler: those who came just to be in the presence of nature.

Today, Muskoka holds that same appeal. There is a vast array of accommodations, attractions and amenities to be found amongst the friendly towns, island-dotted lakes and forested hills. From outdoor adventure enthusiasts to leisure travellers, Muskoka has something for everyone.

Stretching from Algonquin Park in the northeast to the 30,000 Islands on Georgian Bay in the west and to the Trent-Severn Waterway in the South, Muskoka's 4,000 square kilometres feature 1,600 lakes, rivers and streams waiting to be discovered.

Muskoka waters team with Bass, Pike, Trout, Walleye, and Muskie and Georgian Bay has the added attraction of Salmon as well. Charter a flight, travel by boat, take a hike or just drop a line in at the end of a dock: there are as many ways to find fish in Muskoka as there are fish waiting to be found. Muskoka's many campgrounds, lodges, marinas and outfitters are ready to help with rentals, bait, gear, ice huts, licenses and tips to the best locations. Share your stories at the end of the day and keep your catch for yourself; there's plenty more where they came from.

All that water makes Muskoka a boater's paradise as well. A canal and locks connect three of the area's largest lakes, Muskoka, Joseph and Rosseau, and the Huntsville area boasts the chain of Mary, Fairy, Vernon and Peninsula Lakes.

The magnificent Lake of Bays stretches from near the heart of Muskoka to the region's eastern reaches, and Muskoka is home to many of the 30,000

Islands of Georgian Bay. The Trent-Severn travels from Georgian Bay at Port Severn and through Sparrow Lake. Come to Muskoka and cruise in luxury, exhilarate with speed, or paddle under your own power. From the history and tradition of locking through at Port Carling to the one-of-a-kind marvel of the Marine Railway at Big Chute, Muskoka holds a lifetime of boating experiences.

Winter transforms Muskoka's lakes into snow-blanketed sheets of thick ice, perfect for snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, snowshoeing or ice fishing. On ice and land Muskoka features almost 2,000 kms of snowmobile trails and over 600 kms of cross-country ski trails. There's even great downhill skiing in Hidden Valley. Again, Muskoka's outfitters and accommodators are ready to help with anything you might need, from gear and gas to a stay at a cosy B&B or grand resort.

Come spring the paths that were skied or snowshoed become a vast array of hiking trails. Over 40 hiking trails in Muskoka add provide close to 300 kilometres of nature and wildlife viewing across all types of terrain. There are short, easy hikes and longer more challenging excursions. The Trans-Canada Trail passes right through the heart of Muskoka, with extensive sections in Gravenhurst, Bracebridge and Huntsville. Along with Muskoka's many multi-use trails, outfitters and accommodators often have their own trail systems and feature specialized uses such as mountain biking, horseback riding and off-roading.

Of course, summer in Muskoka is perfect for either exhilaration or relaxation. Between the trails and the waterways lie a fantastic assortment of shops, galleries, boutiques, live theatre, festivals and events. Muskoka is also one of North America's great golf destinations, with over 20 spectacular courses laid out around the rocks, trees and water that will appeal to players of any level. When you're done golfing or fishing or waterskiing or racing with the wind in your face, unwind at one of our fabulous eateries or just sit back in a comfortable Muskoka chair and watch the sun set.

In the Algonquin language, 'Muskoka' means "land of the red earth" and while pink granite outcroppings and sunsets that colour the skies crimson are year-round features, Muskoka really earns its name in autumn. Fall is the time of the cranberry harvest and the breathtaking cavalcade of fiery orange and red leaves. Take it in from the water, from the air, from the top of the Dorset lookout tower or on foot in the cool, scented air: to come without a camera would be a terrible mistake. If your preferred fall activities run along sporting lines, many camps, lodges and outfitters in Muskoka can help again with licenses, rentals and tips to the best locations.

Wildlife is abundant in Muskoka, and our secluded woods and bogs are home to deer, moose and bear. Over 50 types of mammals can be found throughout the region, and Muskoka's 250-plus species of birds include everything from hummingbirds and cardinals to partridge and wild turkeys. Most iconic of all, however, is the Loon, whose haunting calls echo across the waters and along the rocky shorelines making a visit to Muskoka impossible to forget.

Welcome to Haliburton Highlands

The Haliburton Highlands is unique not only in Ontario but in Canada. It is blessed with natural beauty, rolling hillsides, craggy rock faces and hundreds of freshwater lakes and rivers. In fact, the county has more than 500 lakes inside its borders!

Only 2.5 hours north of Toronto, the Highlands is home to a variety of unique attractions and natural wonders. From the world-renowned Haliburton Forest and Wild Life Reserve to the world-class White Water Preserve there exists a still-wild facet of this piece of Ontario that is unlike any other.

Through an organization called the Trails and Tours Network (www.trailsandtours.com), the region offers hundreds of kilometres of year round trails for walking, hiking, cycling, mountain biking, horse back riding, x-country skiing and snowmobiling. There's even dogsledding for thrill-seekers and minerals tourism for rock hounds!

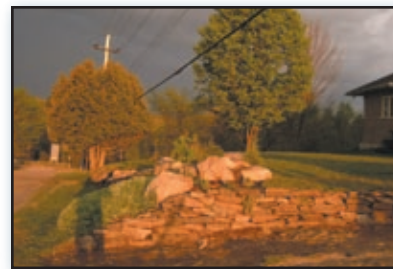

The trails provide a variety of experiences from a quiet amble through a leafy lane to performance-oriented rallies on narrow, twisting 'vegetable tunnels'. The unique geology of the area provides an array of geographic features and scenic vistas along the way. Trails and Tours provides maps for the trail-minded.

For the canoe and kayak enthusiasts the Haliburton Highlands is an ever-changing pleasure: alone and peaceful with the calling loon, or paddling down tree-canopied rivers where the Great Blue Heron holds court. There are lots of places to put in, for a day or a weekend, and maps and books can guide your way.

The Highlands is home to 6 golf courses, all nestled in some of Ontario's most beautiful landscape. Each is uniquely rewarding for a golfers of all skill levels. Full-stocked pro shops, rentals and lessons are available, as well as Golf Packages and some terrific 19th Hole choices.

Sticking with the outdoors, the Highlands boasts a wide variety of fish species: Lake, Brook, Brown and Rainbow Trout, Smallmouth and Largemouth Bass, Walleye, Muskellunge and an assortment of pan fish that will fulfill any anglers wish list.

The Haliburton Lake Trout Project and its hatchery monitor and maintain fish stocks, and recently discovered a unique sub-specie of Lake Trout appropriately named 'the Haliburton Gold'. This glacial relic, more than 10,000 years old, can only be found in the Haliburton Highlands.

If tackling nature one-on-one isn't your thing, don't fret: the Haliburton Highlands is home to one of Canada's largest artistic and cultural communities, offering attractions like the annual School of the Arts, the Sculpture Forest, the 'Where It's Art' driving tour and the annual Studio Tour, the latter celebrating its 15th year this fall.

These attractions, alongside live theatre performances like the Messiah Choir, the Concert Series and the Summer Festival as well as five museums, three galleries and a brand new Heritage Tour, make perfectly clear the county's slogan "A Natural Work of Art".

And for those looking for a purely relaxing getaway, those 500 lakes mean one thing: beaches and sunsets! There are 35 lakeside housekeeping cottage resorts in the Highlands, dozens of private cottage rentals and motels, and a 20-member B&B group whose accommodation is as diverse as you can possibly imagine.

No, they didn't forget the kids in the Highlands: mini-golf, bowling, movies, day camps, carnivals, festivals, museum programming and go-karts will keep any kid amused ... if you can get them off the beach, of course.

And speaking of festivals, there's no shortage of events in the region. From small-town gatherings like church suppers to traditional country fairs, from athletic events like the Ontario Whitewater competitions and the Stanhope Triathlon to cultural pursuits like the Quilt, Rug & Fibre Show and Art in the Park, you can do a whole lot in the Highlands. You'll be tired, but you'll have had a really good time.

If you haven't visited the Haliburton Highlands, you should. It really does have something for everyone.

Welcome to Ottawa Valley

The Ottawa Valley is the Whitewater Capital of Canada

It's little wonder that generations of travelers have chosen this wilderness landscape as the ideal vacation destination. The scenery is breathtaking! An Ice Age fault cradles the Ottawa River between the Laurentian Mountains and the Algonquin dome. Coursing waterways and rolling woodlands traverse dramatic landforms; towering cliffs stretch skyward and windswept pines cling precariously to rocky shorelines. This is the quintessential Canadian landscape.

The historic Ottawa River flows through the Ottawa Valley, bordering Renfrew County to the north. It also links us to neighbouring Quebec - la belle province. Ottawa, Canada's capital city, is at the eastern tip, and the wilderness of Algonquin Park rises to the northwest.

Complimenting this breathtaking scenery, the Ottawa Valley harbours clean water, fresh air and a healthy lifestyle. It calls people out-of-doors for recreational opportunities that are varied and adaptable by season, scenery and technical challenge. To experience the Valley, simply pick a path of exploration. Ply some of the best whitewater in North America or hike to the edge of a 100-metre cliff. Wind your way through an underground cave or snowmobile across classic Canadian Shield terrain. If you want to be outside and active, Renfrew County is the place to be!

Algonquin Park East - A New Perspective on a Canadian Classic

Algonquin Park is the oldest and most renowned provincial park in Ontario, and one of the largest in Canada. A protected wilderness dedicated to preserving our natural ecosystems, Algonquin is one of the best places in North America to view moose and listen to the howl of the wolf. It's also home to over 250 bird species! The Park's clean air and water make it ideal for outdoor adventure including camping, hiking, fishing, canoeing and wildlife viewing. Mountain biking, horseback riding, cross-country skiing, snow-shoeing and dog sledding are also perennial favorites for outdoor enthusiasts.

Each year visitors from around the world access this protected wilderness from Renfrew County which boasts not one - but two - gateways to Algonquin. At the East Gate near Whitney, the Hwy 60 corridor provides access to Algonquin's better-known campgrounds and waterways. Enroute, the Algonquin Logging Museum features a woodland interpretive trail complete with reconstructed log chute, camboose shanty, tugboat and blacksmith shop. Nearby, the Visitor Centre celebrates the best of Algonquin through interactive displays illustrating the region's natural and cultural heritage.

For a different perspective on the Park, Barron Canyon Road (off of Hwy 17 between Pembroke and Petawawa), takes visitors to the Achray Campground on Grand Lake. Here, the recently restored Outside In cabin commemorates Group of Seven painter Tom Thompson who created one of his signature pieces, The Jack Pine, while working at Grand Lake. Downriver, the put-in at Brigham Lake provides access to paddling and portaging through the belly of the towering Barron River Canyon; alternatively, a short hike along the top of the canyon leads to the edge of this stunning gorge.

Geocaching - GPS Treasure Hunting in the Ottawa Valley

Grab your GPS units and head to the scenic Ottawa Valley. This region has become a popular geocaching destination. Seventeen new cache sites alone were developed in 2006 in partnership with www.geocachingontario.com and the Renfrew County Community Futures Development Corporation. The caches are spread out through the region. Each cache contains natural and unique cultural heritage stories from the area. Also, at each cache, a code word can be recovered which the participants can submit on the website www.geocachingontario.com for chances to win thousand of dollars worth or prizes using the online submission form.

There are also another 300 caches sites located in the Ottawa Valley. Their GPS coordinates can be found on www.geocaching.com. This growing activity is fun for all ages. And it isn't just for techies. It is a great opportunity for families to spend time outdoors being active while having a great time together treasure hunting.

A Whitewater World

History proves that for over 5 000 years the rivers of the Ottawa Valley have been a source of unbridled adventure. First Nations peoples, Voyageur fur traders and European settlers faced seemingly insurmountable challenges - today, outdoor enthusiasts push off these shores to feel that same rush! Adventure seekers and weekend warriors from across North America flock to this region to experience the thrill of whitewater. Hot spots include Le Rocher-Fendu at Beachburg where the Ottawa River threads through an archipelago of thirty islands, the Madawaska River just south of Barry's Bay, and stretches of the Petawawa River - especially the rushing rapids in the heart of downtown Petawawa. The Ottawa Valley has over 10 clean, warm and safe whitewater rivers for all seasons and skill levels. It is home to Canada's best paddling schools. Kayak, raft or canoe. There are rivers for all seasons and skill levels including the Ottawa, Madawaska, Bonnechere, Petawawa, Opeongo, Dumoine, Barron, Mattawa, Coulong, Noire, Papineau Creek, York, Grant's Creek and more. Rivers flow from March to the end of November making for a long paddling season.

The Ottawa River is recognized worldwide as one of the best whitewater destinations in the world and that is why in 2007, for the second time, it will be hosting the Whitewater World Freestyle Championships. Ontario's largest whitewater canoe and kayak festival, Palmer Fest is held each May in Palmers Rapids.

Several seasoned outfitters offer a variety of guided packages from screamin' high-adventure rafting to gentle family float-trips, sea kayaking and sport-yaking, canoe clinics, slalom racing and whitewater rodeos. Whatever your pleasure, the magic of whitewater lasts a lifetime!

Welcome to Northumberland County

Getaways are always memorable in Northumberland, just an hour east of Toronto. Relax along the shore of Rice Lake and catch the early morning mist; cast your bait into the lake anticipating that fish strike; hike the many trails; go golfing; visit local attractions and historic towns; or just take in the natural beauty of Northumberland – it's all just waiting for you!

Rice Lake is part of the international Trent-Severn Waterway system and is 23 miles long and 3 miles across, containing over twenty islands of various sizes. Its name is derived from the extensive wild rice beds that once flourished in its waters at the turn of the century. A very fertile lake, the weeds provide cover and food for the local fish population.

Whether you use live bait, crank baits, jigs, texas rigged plastic worms or your own favorite lure, you'll always have fun catching the various fish species of the Rice Lake. The lake is a seasoned lake with panfish (perch, bluegill, sunfish and crappie) opening the last Saturday of April; Walleye the second Saturday of May; Muskie the first Saturday of June, and Large and Smallmouth bass the last Saturday of June, all of which close on November 15th each year.

Just southwest of Rice Lake, the Ganaraska River provides excellent opportunities for trout and salmon angling during the spring and fall season.

Besides outstanding fishing, you can enjoy guided Rice Lake boat cruises which include navigating the drumlin islands, wildlife sightings and learning about the area's settlement including the distinctive history and culture of the local First Nations. For water sports enthusiasts, you can rent watercrafts from houseboats to kayaks from local marinas. Cottage resorts, campgrounds, trailer parks, inns and bed & breakfasts all exist for your comfort.

From spring to fall, Northumberland boasts over 150 festivals and events including the Cobourg Waterfront Festival in July, with the largest open-air fine art and craft sale in Ontario, and the Rural Ramble interactive farm tour event where you can visit 25 farms from honey to buffalo. In September, music lovers will enjoy the Shelter Folk Festival near Grafton and the All-Canadian Jazz Festival in Port Hope.

Area attractions include the Roseneath Carousel which is a fully restored and operational turn-of-the century carousel which is open Sundays from May to October. A short hike along Ferris Provincial Park's Ranney Gorge Suspension Bridge can be exhilarating.

The rolling hills of Northumberland provide beautiful views of the many islands on Rice Lake and the area countryside. Combine a scenic driving tour with a visit to the many historic towns or villages where artisan studios, antique shops and specialty outlets like World's Finest Chocolate Factory Outlet or Empire Cheese & Butter Co-op both in Campbellford, create a fun eclectic shopping experience. For additional pampering, there are many day & destination spas to choose from.

Golf enthusiasts will enjoy the choice of 11 golf courses -- from challenging to relaxing and also offering wonderful views and vistas. With several forests, provincial and conservation parks, the network of trails and parkland offer great opportunities for naturalists, hikers and cyclists.

Amaze in the St. Lawrence Seaway Corridor, principal route of explorers to Canada and home to the world-renowned Thousand Islands and the charming communities of Gananoque, Rockport and Ivy Lea. Step aboard a scenic tour of the Islands, watch a passing ship in what remains one of the world's most important shipping lanes, or just relax and take in the splendor of it all.

Excite in the mighty Ottawa River and the breathtaking vistas from land and water. Paddle down the River in a voyageur canoe, experience the thrill of whitewater rafting and kayaking or fish the fertile waters - there's something for everyone. The cities of Kingston, Canada's first capital, Brockville and Cornwall also beckon with their own treasures - waterways, the natural wonder of the Thousand Islands, national and provincial parks, Upper Canada Village near Morrisburg and Fort Henry in Kingston. Not to be missed are the region's wonderful museums, galleries and live professional theatre. Visit an artisan's shop and watch craftspeople at work - glass blowing, pottery-making, wood carving - you'll be amazed and delighted.

Lanark County

Visit the villages and towns of Lanark County and experience history, culture and much, much more!

Come and enjoy the outdoors in Lanark County. While you are here, visit our historical towns and villages located in this picturesque rural setting. Even though Lanark County is located on the western boundary of Ottawa, it's a whole world away. Outdoor Adventure is our specialty - you will enjoy our many waterways, trails, and forests. Our range of topography provides for memorable scenic drives, bicycle tours, kayak runs, or for a simple jog.

In the winter, the crisp air and clean white snow make it ideal for outdoor activities.

Try skating, snowmobiling, snow-shoeing, cross country skiing, downhill skiing, sledding, or just frolicking. During the summer there are many festivals and events that celebrate the rich history of the area or you can pick a nice quiet spot to relieve your tension and just get away from it all. Take a drive to enjoy the sparkling clean waterways and quiet countryside, take a hike to get closer to the natural beauty of the wilderness, or bring your golf clubs for 18 holes with your family.

To begin your rural outdoor adventure, contact the Lanark County Tourism office at 1-888-452 6275, by email at tourism@county.lanark.on.ca, or check out our web-site at www.lanarkcountytourism.ca for a current list of events.

Rideau Lakes

Rideau Lakes is a wonderful place to get away from it all and relax. We offer something for every taste whether it be boating, shopping, fishing, golfing, hiking, bicycling, antiquing, swimming and much more.

Stay at a local B&B, hotel, lodge, cabin, campground or marina. Enjoy a taste of locally made maple syrup, cheese or fresh sweet corn. Each of our communities has something to offer. Portland, gateway to Big Rideau Lake; Newboro, a haven for anglers; Chaffeys Locks, water access in a tranquil setting; Delta with its heritage homes and historic stone mill; Elgin, service centre for the region; and the quaint rural charm of our smaller villages and hamlets of Chantry, Crosby, Forfar, Lombardy, Morton, Plum Hollow and Philipsville.

Take in one of our festivals; the Delta Maple Syrup festival in April, Elgin Days in July, the Delta Fair in July, Chaffey's Locks Corn roast in August and Thanksgiving celebrations in October at several communities.

We offer a wide variety of recreational opportunities. Golf on the wooded terrain of one of our several golf courses. Enjoy fishing; the southern Rideau Lakes are particularly noted for their excellent bass fishing. Enjoy the water on any of our many lakes. No boat? Not a problem, there are several places where you can rent one. Hike the Rideau or Catarqui Trails. Bicycle our backroads or trails. Spend a day antiquing at one of our many antique shops. Tour a museum and learn about some of the early history of the region.

The Rideau Canal Waterway is a boater's paradise, attracting pleasure boats from across North America to travel its 202 kilometre (125 mile) length. The Rideau Waterway, a Canadian National Historic Site and a designated Canadian Heritage River, consists of a series of beautiful lakes and rivers connected by canals. It stretches from Kingston, at the foot of Lake Ontario, to Ottawa, Canada's capital. Maintained by Canada's Parks service it is arguably the most scenic waterway in North America. Whether you visit by boat, car, or bicycle, the Rideau has something for you.

Bay of Quinte

Bay of Quinte Country...the great outdoors

Bay of Quinte Country is a well-known destination for boaters and anglers. The Bay is ideal for sailing and cruising on calm waters protected by Prince Edward County. It is also a world-class fishery for Walleye and Bass, attracting both amateur and professional anglers all year long. The challenge of salmon fishing in Lake Ontario also draws thousands of anglers each summer for trophy fish. The Bay of Quinte is the southern gateway to the Trent Severn Waterway, and the western entrance to the 1000 Islands region, making it the favourite course for sailors and power boaters alike.

Kayaking and windsurfing are attracting more and more people to the Bay and surrounding waterways. In the Spring and Fall, bird migrations draw increasing numbers of visitors to Presqu'île Park to marvel at the many different species stopping for a rest. Meanwhile back on land, an extensive trail system is being developed, connecting with the Lake Ontario Waterfront Trail and the Trans Canada Trail. These are multi-use trails catering to hikers and riders, in all seasons.

Bay of Quinte Country is all about outdoor adventure. For more information contact:
