Business information resources accessible in YOUR community!

Community Resource Network Sites

Are you looking for:

- direction as you start or expand your business?
- information, advice and capital you need to make your business a success?
- business counseling or assistance in preparing your business plan?
- information on export programs?
- resources available for women or young entrepreneurs?
- business expertise within your own community?

The Community Resource Network Sites can help you find the answers to your business questions. These sites have been created through a partnership with economic development organizations such as the Enterprise Agencies, Community Business Development Corporations and the Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency.

Each of the 14 Community Resource Network Sites has a resource library of business-related materials on topics from business planning to marketing, financing to exporting, and more. Obtain free access to government programs, services and regulations!

There are people in your region who can help with your business needs. Find out who they are and what they offer by visiting your local Community Resource Network Site or by calling toll-free: 1-800-668-1010.
