Views by Doug Matthews: The dirt on deltas. The Mackenzie and Niger deltas are both rich in petroleum resources. So why has the African delta been blessed with industry activity while the Northern delta has not?

Far North Oil & Gas, Spring 2006, p. 28-32.

At odd with the MGP. No organization has been a bigger critic of the Mackenzie Gas Project than the Sierra Club of Canada. It thinks the MGP is bad news for the North and for the nation.

Far North Oil & Gas, Spring 2006, p. 46-52.

Stuck with the crumbs. The current royalty regime and a lack of revenue sharing leaves NWT governments with little to show from oil and gas development. Their leaders want to change that. All they need is the federal government to play along.

Far North Oil & Gas, Spring 2006, p. 61-64.

The new Canadian IPY website was developed as a "one stop shop" for all IPY Canada information. The International Polar Year (IPY) 2007-2008 is a two year program of science, research and education focused on the Arctic and Antarctic regions. Canadian and international researchers from universities, northern communities, and governments are working to advance our understanding of cultural, social, economic and health dimensions, as well as geophysical, climate and biological processes in polar regions.
