

WORKSHEET FOR CALCULATING 1996 INSTALMENT PAYMENTS

If you have to make instalment payments, we will mail you Instalment Reminders before your payments are due. However, since your financial situation can change from year to year, you may not have to pay the amounts indicated on your reminders.

Instructions

Do you have to make instalment payments?

You have to make instalment payments for 1996 if in 1996 and either 1995 or 1994:

- you are not a resident of Quebec and the total of your federal and provincial taxes payable exceeds the sum of your tax deducted at source and refundable tax credits by more than $2,000; or
- you are a resident of Quebec and your federal tax payable exceeds the sum of your federal tax deducted at source, refundable Quebec abatement, and refundable tax credits by more than $1,200.

Note: If you moved to or from Quebec in 1996, 1995, or 1994, please use the calculation that applies to the province you lived in on December 31 of those years.

Instalment Reminders

If you have to pay your income tax by instalments, we will mail you Instalment Reminders which tell you how much you can pay under the no calculation option. We mail the Instalment Reminder for the March 15 and June 15 instalment payments in February, and for the September 15 and December 15 payments in August. If your main source of income is from farming or fishing, you should receive your Instalment Reminder at the end of November.

If you are a farmer or fisherman, we calculate the amount of your instalment payment based on your 1995 taxes and CPP contributions payable. Otherwise, we calculate the amount due on your March and June 1996 Instalment Reminder based on your 1994 taxes and CPP contributions payable. For your September and December 1996 reminder, we adjust the amounts due so that the four payments for the year equal the amount of your 1995 taxes and CPP contributions payable.

If you do not receive Instalment Reminders and you believe you should be paying by instalment, contact your tax services office for more information.

Can you use this worksheet?

If your net income for 1995, or your expected net income for 1996, is less than the net income of the taxation year we used to calculate your instalment payments, you can choose to pay lower amounts. If this is the case, use this worksheet to determine the instalment amount(s) that you should pay.

In most cases, whether you decide to pay the amount shown on each reminder or the amount you calculated based on your 1995 taxes and CPP contributions payable, you will pay the same amount by the end of the year.

How do you use this worksheet?

If you want to calculate your instalment payments using your income for the 1995 tax year, complete your 1995 income tax return and copy the information onto the corresponding lines on this worksheet. To use your estimated income for the 1996 tax year, complete a 1995 income tax return using your 1996 figures. Copy that information onto the corresponding lines on this worksheet.

If you are estimating your 1996 taxes and CPP contributions payable using a 1995 return, use the following amounts:

* Maximum CPP contributions (line 308)	$ 893.20
* Maximum UI contributions (line 312)	$ 1,150.76
* Base amount for UI repayment (line 235)	$58,500.00
* Base amount for OAS repayment (line 235)	$53,215.00

Please note that you do not have to use this worksheet. If your income increases or remains about the same from year to year, you should pay the amounts shown on all your Instalment Reminders by the due dates. This ensures that you will not have to pay instalment interest, even if the payments are less than the total amount of tax you may owe at the end of the year.

However, if you complete this worksheet and the instalment amount due on line J or K is less than the amount indicated on your Instalment Reminder, you can pay the lesser amount without contacting us. Regardless of the amount you pay, your Instalment Reminders will continue to show the amounts we calculated as explained above.

Note: The line references on this worksheet are from the T1 General income tax return.
