

19 INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RETURN FOR REGISTERED RETIREMENT SAVINGS PLAN (RRSP) EXCESS CONTRIBUTIONS

- Use the space above to indicate the year for which you are completing this return.
- Complete this return if you were 19 or older in the year and made $8,001 or more of RRSP contributions after 1990 that you did not deduct and do not intend to deduct for the year you indicated above or any previous year.
- If you were under 19 throughout the year, or you had a net past service pension adjustment (net PSPA) for the year you indicated above, you should complete this return even if the RRSP contributions you made after 1990 that you did not deduct and do not intend to deduct for the year you indicated above or a previous year are less than $8,001.
- If you made excess contributions in a year before 1991 that were subject to penalty tax, and you did not withdraw the contributions before February 1 of the year you indicated above, complete Part I of Area II of this return.
- If you made excess contributions in a year before 1991 that were subject to penalty tax, and did not file your T1-OVP return for that year, use the 1990 version of this return.
- Mail one completed copy of this return to your nearest taxation centre within 90 days after the end of the year you indicated above.
- For the extended meaning of "spouse" and other terms used on this return, get the income tax guide called RRSPs and Other Registered Plans for Retirement.
