

Membership has its benefits!

For Members Only!

As a benefit of membership, the current issue of The Canadian Journal of Infection Control is available to download on our web site. Log in to the Members Area and click on ICP Tools & Resources. Back issues are also available on line!

Need a Mentor? Want to be a Mentor?

See what our new Mentorship Program can offer you. Need a mentor? Want to be a mentor? Click the red Mentorship Program button on the home page of our web site to find out more.

IPAC Canada Member and Source Guide

IPAC Canada publishes an annual Member and Source Guide each spring, which lists members and their contact information. It also has a compendium of standards and guidelines, an overview of education, resource listings, and a buyer’s guide. It really is a valuable resource. The MSG is mailed to all members with the Spring journal, and a digital copy is posted in the Members Area of the web site.

Current members as at December 31st each year will be listed in the MSG. If you join IPAC Canada after December 31st, your contact information won’t appear until the following year’s MSG is published. If you wish to decline having your contact information published in the MSG, contact us at admin@ipac-canada.org.

Did you join one of our Interest Groups?

Another great benefit of membership is the ability to participate on special interest groups. There is no additional fee to participate on any interest groups relevant to your area of practice.

If you joined any interest groups with your application for membership, we will advise those groups to begin including you in any communications. Haven’t joined a group yet? Click on the Inside IPAC Canada icon on the home page and view the complete list of interest groups.

Get Member Discounts on Registration Fees at our National Education Conference!

IPAC Canada members receive a significant discount on registration fees to attend our annual National Education Conference. There are also valuable scholarship opportunities only available to members!

Information on the annual conference can be found in the Conferences and Education section of the web site. We hope you will join us at our conjoint conference with IFIC in Quebec City May 26–29, 2019.

Valuable Resources

The Infection Prevention and Control Program Standard, Core Competencies for ICPs, Core Competencies for HCWs - and more - are available under our Resources tab.

Networking. Chapter Membership. Online Education. Mentorship.

Your membership – at both the chapter and national level – provides you with so many opportunities to reach out to your peers, to contribute, and to learn. Be sure to utilize the Members Area of our web site – and your chapter’s web site – to your full advantage! Visit the archives section to view past webinars and download sessions from past conferences.
