

We're Hiring! Infection Control Nurse (RN)

As an Infection Control Nurse, you will:

- Provide leadership and expertise related to the surveillance, prevention, and control of infection in the hospital and associated out-patient settings;
- Conduct surveillance, analyze data and make recommendations to improve the effectiveness of existing practices or procedures;
- Act as a resource for nurses and other health care providers in the hospital and community and provide clinical leadership on interdisciplinary teams in addressing infection prevention & control issues through consultations, continuing education, and other presentations;
- Collaborate with interdisciplinary team members, educators, and other health care professionals/providers to achieve excellence in client centred care, education and research.

Why Choose VCH:

- Stunning work locations
- Dynamic work opportunities
- Work-life balance
- "People First" Commitment
- Supportive leadership
- Clinical practice support
- Career development & education

We Offer:

- 4 weeks paid vacation
- Health and Dental coverage
- Work-life balance
- "People First" Commitment

APPLY TODAY!

